Main Attraction

Of all the magnificent stones a fine jewelry shop may present, the diamond ring definitely wins first place as the "main attraction." In this shop every diamond has been most carefully analyzed, and is presented for consideration with a complete description of quality.

Three important cuts are illustrated—an emerald cut diamond; a round diamond, and a magnificent marquise diamond, all pictured slightly smaller than actual size.

MRS. CLAUDE K. BOETTCHER

Is a charming study of informal grace as the photographer captures this camera portrait of her in the tropical patio of "Southwood," her Via Del Lago home in Palm Beach.

Cottage Colony Society Life

EACH year finds many of the island's manses developing more and more into miniature sea-side spas, with everything from their own moving-picture theatres to an amazingly complete assortment of tennis courts beach-houses with intriguing cocktail lounges and completely equipped bars, tennis and badminton courts, swimming-pools and all of the settings that the ordinary citizen travels to various points in the resort to enjoy.

Nowadays the Palm Beach host or hostess invites a group of friends for a house-party and the fortunate guests find that they have moved into a background that furnishes everything from their favorite sports setting to any one of a hundred of their pet indoor pastimes.

Comes that rare phenomena in Palm Beach, a rainy day, and there are no bored house-guests vainly casting about for amusement, but a bright and happy group of resorters taking

Not that the cottage colony hibernates solely within its own exclusive borders, for even perfection palls and there are so many smart gathering spots in Palm Beach, where they may meet over cocktails or a sizzling steak and dance to exciting music under the stars, that there are always occasional sorties into the club and cafe life of the colony.

Among the most resourceful of Palm Beach's list of famous hosts is Mr. Charles A. Munn, whose thoughtful hospitality is a proverb in social circles. "Amado", the Munn manse, each year shelters a distinguished group of house-guests, who find the leisurely graceful life exemplified by the social schedule at this villa, the answer to banishing boredom from the house-party.

Youth seems to be no handicap for Miss Mary Munn, the lovely mistress of "Amado" being numbered among the resort's most ingenuous hostesses. Mr. Munn's daughter is a popular member of the younger set and has always taken a prominent part in the social life and civic drives in Palm Beach.

Celebrities seem to naturally gravitate toward the house-parties of the beautiful Mrs. J. Jay O'Brien, with this season finding brilliant young Mr. Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and his wife, the former Mrs. Huntington Hartford, internationally known Miss Elsa Maxwell and other international figures enjoying her hospitality. Mr. Byron Foy, head of the Chrysler corporation, who is by way of being a celebrity on his own, with the prominence of the part he is playing in the National Defense Program, and his sparkling wife Mrs. Foy, the former Thelma Chrysler, are another interesting pair of house-guests at the O'Brien sea-side villa.

Speaking of the national limelight, Mr. Joseph P. Kennedy, retiring ambassador to Great Britain, whose timely radio speeches and first hand knowledge of European conditions have won the interest of millions of America's radio audience, is another distinguished member of Palm Beach's Cottage Colony to add color to the 1941 season.

Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy have as their guests this winter, Mr. and Mrs. John Fitzgerald, Mrs. Kennedy's parents. The youthful members of the Kennedy family are found in the many social gatherings for the younger set on the island. All of the Kennedy children have a host of young friends in Palm Beach.

Just a few minutes drive from the island and in what is considered the Palm Beach area, Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney exchanges visits and parties with her many friends in this resort, with her Hobe Sound home the setting for many attractive gatherings. Mrs. John Verney of London is a house guest of Mrs. Whitney's this season.

Honoring their house-guests Mr. and Mrs. Suydam Cutting of New York and Gladstone, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Kay have been entertaining at a series of small dinner and cocktail parties at their South Ocean Boulevard home. Mr. Cutting is well known as an explorer, having traversed Tibet three times as an invited guest of the Lama of Tibet, and innumerable odd corners of the earth, including a trek into Northern Indo-China. His latest book, "The Fire Ox" and "Other Years" appeared recently. He is also the author of numerous articles published in scientific and travel magazines.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Fahs Smith have been among the colony's busiest hosts during the past month. Attractive parties at their Sea Breeze Avenue residence and at the in the latest moving picture epic in their host's private theatre, indulging in everything from bridge to backgammon in a card-room that perhaps overlooks the sea or the quiet waters of the lake or enjoying a bit of badminton in a cozily protected loggia.

The modern guest in this resort's famed cottage colony is never left to his or her own resources, unless they are desirous of complete relaxation, in which event there are dozens of sunny settings, from well protected solariums atop the roof, to reclining chairs 'neath a picturesque palm by the side of the swimming pool, where they may commune with their thoughts and enjoy the island's balmy breezes and the health-giving rays of the sun.

MISS JOAN WYETH

Popular member of the younger set in Palm Beach, who is staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Sims Wyeth, at their residence on South County Road in Palm Beach.

Everglades Club proving interesting to a number of their Palm Beach friends. Mr. and Mrs. S. Gifford Davidge of Pasadena, California, motored from Miami recently to join Mr. and Mrs. Smith's house party. Mrs. Davidge is a niece of Mr. Smith.

House-guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sheldon Johnson this season are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shawhan of Chicago, who are at "Maison de Bonheure" the Johnson villa on Barton Avenue for several weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pearsall of Hinsdale, Ill., joined the Johnson house-party recently.

Among the cottage colony's most interesting members this season are Mr. and Mrs. Myron C. Taylor, who are at the Vita Serena residence of Mrs. R. Amscotts Wilson, which they have leased. The Myron Taylors specialize in quiet little dinner parties and are among the colony's foremost exponents of the leisurely graceful life.

The beautiful Widener mansion has been the setting for several attractive dinner gatherings this season. Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. B. Widener entertained for a number of guests recently at dinner, following a day at the races at beautiful Hialeah. Their guests included Mr. and Mrs. John C. Clark and Mr. George H. Bull, President of Saratoga and Empire City race tracks.

Mr. and Mrs. William Russell Huntley entertained a group of their friends recently at a delightful dinner party. Their Algoma Road home was attractively decorated for the occasion. Honor guests were Mr. Walter W. Huntley and Mr. and Mrs. Allison Deuell of Niagara Falls, who are on their yacht "Alchadi" during their stay in Palm Beach.

"The Reef," lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Aksel C. P. Wichfeld, is one of the cottage colony's bright spots this season. Among their house-guests this season, who have been honored at many interesting parties, are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brooks of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks came to the Wichfeld's house party from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Huntington, where they stayed for several weeks.

Miss Joan Leidy, daughter of Mrs. Wichfeld, has acted as hostess to a number of parties for the younger set at "The Reef" since the inception of the season.

Miss Grace Amory entertained a few friends at dinner recently at her home on Middle Road, where she resides with her step-father, Mr. Herbert Pulitzer. The Pulitzer home is another of the colony's lovely villas that is often the setting for small intimate parties rather than stiffly formal larger gatherings.

Mrs. Frank Osgood Butler entertained at luncheon for a number of friends recently at the Seminole Club. Among her guests were Mr. and Mrs. Nathan D. Bill, Mr. and Mrs. John Shepard, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ernest G. Howes, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McQuesten, Mrs. Grace Edward Miller, Mrs. James H. Kennedy, Mrs. McAlpin Bell, Mrs. Frank Vernon Skiff, Mrs. Frank Quigley, Mr. Harry Skillman, Mr. Raymond G. Noble, Mr. Harry Radon, Mr. Ira Dunkle and Mr. Joseph Love.

MRS. HENRY HAVEN WINDSOR

Makes a delightful camera study etched against a background of picturesque brick wall, with the white trim of an interesting archway forming a fitting frame for the picture.

AMONG the PALMS

THE most spectacular and unusual in the series of gala nights being held throughout the season at sumptuous Whitehall will be the "Pavilion de Paganinni" a fete galante, on Saturday evening, (Feb. 8), starring the incomparable D'Ivons, a ballroom team whose interpretation of Morton Gould's "Pavanne" is the talk of the terpsichorean world. Sara Ann McCabe, young and beautiful thrush, who recently finished a long engagement with Guy Lombardo's orchestra at the Roosevelt Grill in New York, will be introduced to Palm Beach society at this gala.

A gypsy rendezvous, "Chez les Tzigane", is the intriguing title for the dinner-dance on Saturday, Feb. 15, with a trio of Russians as strolling Romanies in the Russian manner.

One of the most elaborate of the series on Saturday, Feb. 22, will be the "Bal des Blackamoors", a fantasy in black and white, featuring a fashion parade of shimmering sequin and jet-trimmed evening gowns by Herman Patrick Tappe.

"New Orleans Gaiete" (a Ping Party in old New Orleans) will take place on Saturday, March 1, duplicating the spirit of the New Orleans Mardi Gras with all its holiday glamour.

Duplicate in the Louis XIC Lounge on Wednesdays with Mrs. W. Willis Wilder as hostess is attracting the intelligentsia and the enthusiasts who take their bridge seriously. David Brown of Waterbury, Conn., and Palm Beach, youthful addict, does the scoring. Mrs. Wilder's small intimate bridge-luncheons on Tuesdays and Fridays attract many hostesses who are entertaining house-guests from the frozen north. Luncheon is served in the Jardin Royal followed by bridge in the handsome Gold Room.

Daily tea dansants at The Breakers' Cocoonut Grove attract many parties to the famed resort hotel. Jayne Manners, charming young songstress, is featured during the tea hour in her individual program "Ideas in Songs". Dance exhibitions by the popular instructors, Patricia and Burt Church, are also features of Cocoonut Grove programs in the evening as well as the afternoon tea dances, while Walter Miller's excellent music furnishes rhythm for dancing.

As the season progresses more and more parties are given in this popular rendezvous during the late afternoon by members of the hotel and cottage colony. In one group recently were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Halton, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Campbell, and Mr. and Mrs. William Wassell.

With the season nearing its peak The Breakers is a center of great social activity. Interesting luncheon and dinner parties are given by members of the hotel and cottage colony while each day marks a number of new arrivals from many sections of this country augmenting the large group already here for the season. Among recent season guests at the hotel are His Excellency Simon di Patino with Mme. Patino and their daughter, Comtesse R. di Boisrouvray and her small daughter of Paris.

Other recent arrivals at The Breakers who will spend the season include Mr. and Mrs. John H. Griffin, Minneapolis; Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Giannini, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Prufrock and Mrs. Roland Kahle, St. Louis; Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Niggeman and Miss Jane Niggeman, Clayton, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Sills, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. George H. Tipling, Cleveland; Mrs. Frank Roberts and Mrs. Grant Shipley, Pittsburgh; Mr. Harry Skillman, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. William MacNeill, Philadelphia; Miss Dell Robertson and Mrs. John L. Robertson, Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Alvan Van Clief and family, Buffalo, New York.

Arrivals from New York who are at The Breakers for the season include Mrs. Wanamaker Cruger, Mr. and Mrs. Beverley A. Norris, Mrs. Charles Wiegand, Mrs. Virginia Conron, Mrs. Rene Caullet, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Huffman, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Calhoun.

The Vineta has offered a delightful haven for many winter visitors during the coolness of recent days, with its heated lounges providing an excellent spot for bridge and its sheltered patio delightful for luncheon in the sun.

The East garden of The Vineta is ideal during any interval while the sun is out with its attractive and comfortable lounging furniture offering surcease from worldly irritations, and pleasure in its beautiful tropical surroundings so typical of Palm Beach.

and the modernistic dining room is popular for dinner in the evening.

Members of the Chicago colony at the Vineta Hotel welcomed the arrival recently of two guests who are planning lengthy stays.

Mrs. John A. Chapman of Lake Forest, Ill., has returned for her second season at The Vineta and another arrival was that of Mr. William P. Welsh of Chicago, Ill.

Several arrivals joined the New York colony at The Vineta recently, Mr. John B. Woodward, well known publisher's representative, arriving for the season.

Other arrivals included Mr. and Mrs. Cecil D. Mastin, Binghamton, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Van Name of Brooklyn, N. Y., also Mr. and Mrs. Scott H. Bowen of Whiteboro, N. Y., and Mrs. A. J. Reddington, New York City. Miss Harriet Flowers of Terre Haute, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Meryle Allyn of Cleveland, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Torchio of Bronxville, N. Y., and Mrs. H. A. Reddington of Madison, Conn. Mrs. A. E. Anderson of Forest Hills, N. Y., Mrs. William N. Haskell of Fort McClellan, Ala., Mrs. S. J. Fitz-Simmons of Detroit, Mich., and Mrs. Harry Thomas Jordan of Philadelphia.

The Sunday night buffet suppers at Brazilian Court were resumed the evening of January 26th and attracted many from the hotel and cottage colony. These popular weekly events appeal to many who wish to entertain guests in a pleasantly informal atmosphere. The long table on the cloister, decorated with tropical flowers and laden with tempting dishes including hot and cold delicacies, a wide assortment of cold cuts, salads to bring ecstasy to the gourmet, pastries and other desserts, is a delightful sight and a source of satisfaction to those with jaded appetites.

Tables were placed in the attractive tropical patio with small blue lights and amber floods bringing out the beauty of the shrubs, flowers and trees. Dudley Doe and his orchestra played for the cocktail hour and during dinner strolled around the patio and on the cloister playing the favorite songs of the guests.

In the past few days many well known guests have returned to Brazilian Court for their annual visits. Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Strong Mulford of Oak Knoll, Montclair, N. J., and Southampton, L. I., are occupying their usual suite until spring. The Mulfords are actively identified with social and cultural activities here and are members of the Everglades and Bath and Tennis Clubs. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence R. Bitting of Watch Hill, R. I., and New York, are other returning guests. Their daughter Miss Margaret Bitting who has visited here frequently, was introduced to society last autumn at a supper dance given by her parents, at the St. Regis Roof. The Bittings were joined recently by Dr. Paul Kronacker of Brussels, Belgium, a former Commandant of the Belgian Artillery and a well known European industrialist.

On Thursday evening, January 30th, the Palm Beach Hotel inaugurated its first dinner dance with entertainment, with Miss Marie Houston, well known concert and opera singer who has appeared in many of the music centers of America and Europe, headlining the program. Song and dance teams were presented and several guests at the hotel contributed to the show with their own dance routines.

Among important arrivals of the past few days at the hotel were Mr. and Mrs. William M. Holmes of New York. Mr. Holmes is the president of Bonwit Teller. The couple have been annual visitors at the Palm Beach for four years. Mr. and Mrs. James S. Throckmorton of Caldwell, N. J., and Mrs. Throckmorton's sister, Mrs. William J. Doig, are there to pass several weeks. Mr. Throckmorton is president of a bank in Caldwell. Mrs. Doig has been a winter visitor here for many years and formerly was a guest at the Breakers.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Curtin of Orange, N. J., are among recent arrivals who have returned for their annual visit at the Palm Beach. Mr. and Mrs. F. A. O'Neill of Rydal, Pa., have joined the Quaker state colony, and Mr. H. LeVan Richards, of New York, an official of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, is there for several weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd L. Schroeder and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Chandless are registered from Hackensack, N. J. Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. O'Melia of Jersey City, N. J., who have been annual visitors at the Palm Beach for many years, have returned to join their many friends. Also returning to join in the social life at the hotel were Mr. and Mrs. Enoch G. Mergrue of New York.

There is a noticeable quickening of tempo at the Palm Beach Biltmore this week as established members of the colony prepare for the coming six weeks that traditionally mark the peak of the season here. The comparative quiet of the early winter months is fast giving way to the more active aspects of the major social season and visitors arriving daily from northern climes are busily arranging their schedules accordingly.

Interspersed through the month's calendar is a variety of events, including numerous private dinner parties, cocktail assemblies, luncheons and teas, the informal program of entertainment evolved by the management and the sports tournaments at the Palm Beach Country Club and the Sun and Surf where membership privileges are accorded resident Biltmore guests.

Favorite spot for informal gatherings at the resort is the Cascades Bar and Lounge where hotel guests and cottage colonists alike enjoy a nightly program of entertainment unmatched for its variation and color. Highlighting the current show there is Miss Ruth Landi's versatile performances twice nightly, Michael Harmon's clear lyric baritone voice and the always popular mystic, Myrus the Mental Marvel. Esme, internationally famous crystal reader of Glasgow, Scotland, the youthful Arthur Murray dance team of Jeanne Allen and George Montgomery together with Paul Sparr and his orchestra complete the bill with added attractions from time to time.

agement this season and are attracting large gatherings weekly. The Marquis George MacDonald of New York entertained a small group there at the opening supper, later attending the Sunday Evening Concert in the Great Hall presented by Paul Sparr and his Biltmore ensemble.

Among the outstanding sports groups that will be at the Biltmore this month is the Artists' and Writers' Golf Association, whose members will make their annual trek to Palm Beach on Feb. 14th to remain through the 22nd. Their tournament will be played over the eighteen hole championship length course at the Palm Beach Country Club and plans are being completed for their entertainment program by Mr. Maurice Collette, New York advertising agency executive. The Artists and Writers hold their spring and fall tournaments at the Greenbrier in White Sulphur Springs.

SPORTS clothes for Florida sun and fun, run the gamut from the gayest of the gay and flamboyant, to conservative, stark white. Designed, according to your preference in active—or spectator—sports!

If tennis is the chosen sport, of your active resort life, you will find white sharkskin is the popular medium used for the various stylings in tennis dresses. The majority are sleeveless, high of neckline, and knee-length, with accompanying shorts. One of the newest models combines the short and pleated shirt in a clever one-piece styling!

For fishing (and this is becoming a very popular sport for the distaff side) your costume all depends upon whether or not you really plan to fish, or just watch the rest of the crowd—and the fish! In the first instance, a two piece slacks outfit made of “faded blue” cotton, would be practical and correct. If you are merely an observer, then choose something like this: light weight Oxford gray flannel slacks, gray sweater and checked sports jacket in rust tones.

Swimming and sun-tanning! For your dip in the ocean, or lounging in the sun—bathing suits of exotic sunfast cotton prints, jersey, or sharkskin. The midriff, while still in the style picture, is usually conspicuous by its absence, on the smartest beaches!

Everyone in the Colony seems to be bicycling these days. Long-sleeved, “shirtwaist” play suits—shirt and shorts topped by a pleated skirt—are omnipresent. These appear in cottons, synthetics, and silk. Slacks are also chosen for this sport; topped by open-throated sports shirts.

Play suits and golf are synonymous; worn with or without the accompanying wrap-around skirts! Action sleeves, full pleated shorts, and flaring gored skirts are interesting and practical style notes here.

Casual frocks of light weight washable flannel are grand acquisitions to the resort wardrobe. Insulated against both heat and cold—they can weather any type of active sports, or smartly “spectate” on the sidelines, with perfect fashion assurance!

Mrs. Nicolas Embiricos, was seen shopping on Worth

Avenue one day recently, in a white slacks suit, with narrow trousers and large patch pockets. The sailor collar of her suit and huge over-arm handbag, were of the same bright striped material.

◆ ◆ ◆ ◆

Mrs. Woolworth Donahue, has gone in for navy blue slacks exclusively—and navy blue slacks suits!

◆ ◆ ◆ ◆

For the Tombola luncheon-fashion show at the Everglades Club, Mrs. Jesse Spalding, chose a chic orange and red print frock with matching turban.

◆ ◆ ◆ ◆

Among the smartly dressed spectators at Hialeah—Miss Fernando Munn, wearing a suit of black and white tweed, dramatized by twin clips of gold and diamonds.

◆ ◆ ◆ ◆

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carnegie Phipps, also noted at Hialeah one afternoon—watching a number of their horses compete in the races; Mrs. Phipps, in a slim tailored coat of light beige camel's hair and a natural straw swagger sailor, trimmed with gay flowers.

◆ ◆ ◆ ◆

Mrs. Wanamaker Munn, one of the most attractively gowned women at the opening of the Beach Club—wearing white lace with silver threads, flaunting a short train. She accented her white costume with many gold bracelets and a short wrap of sables.

◆ ◆ ◆ ◆

Mrs. Aksel Wichfeld, for the same festivities, was very smart in a slim jacket-dress of black crepe; the huge pockets fashioned of sequins. For striking contrast, she chose a short white fox cape.

◆ ◆ ◆ ◆

Also in black and white at the Beach Club opening—Mrs. Laddie Sanford! She wore a black net bouffant dress with silver motifs decorating the flaring skirt; her jacket was white ermine.

◆ ◆ ◆ ◆

Dramatic is the word for the stunning gown worn by Mrs. Robert McCoskry Butt, to the Everglades Club; white organza with royal blue jersey top—a white dove of peace made of feathers adorning the front of the bodice.

◆ ◆ ◆ ◆

Among the guests at the Hialeah luncheon given by Mr. Jules Bache, Mrs. Claude Arpels of Paris and New York City, made a striking picture, with her long-sleeved frock of white crepe—the bodice of the dress made dazzling with a “firebird” of gold whose wings and tail were emblazoned with rubies, diamonds and sapphires. A white cap-like hat was trimmed low at one side with a bunch of white narcissus.

◆ ◆ ◆ ◆

A rust-colored slacks suit with matching turban and white cardigan thrown over her shoulders — Mrs. Diana Guest noted at cocktail time at the Alibi!

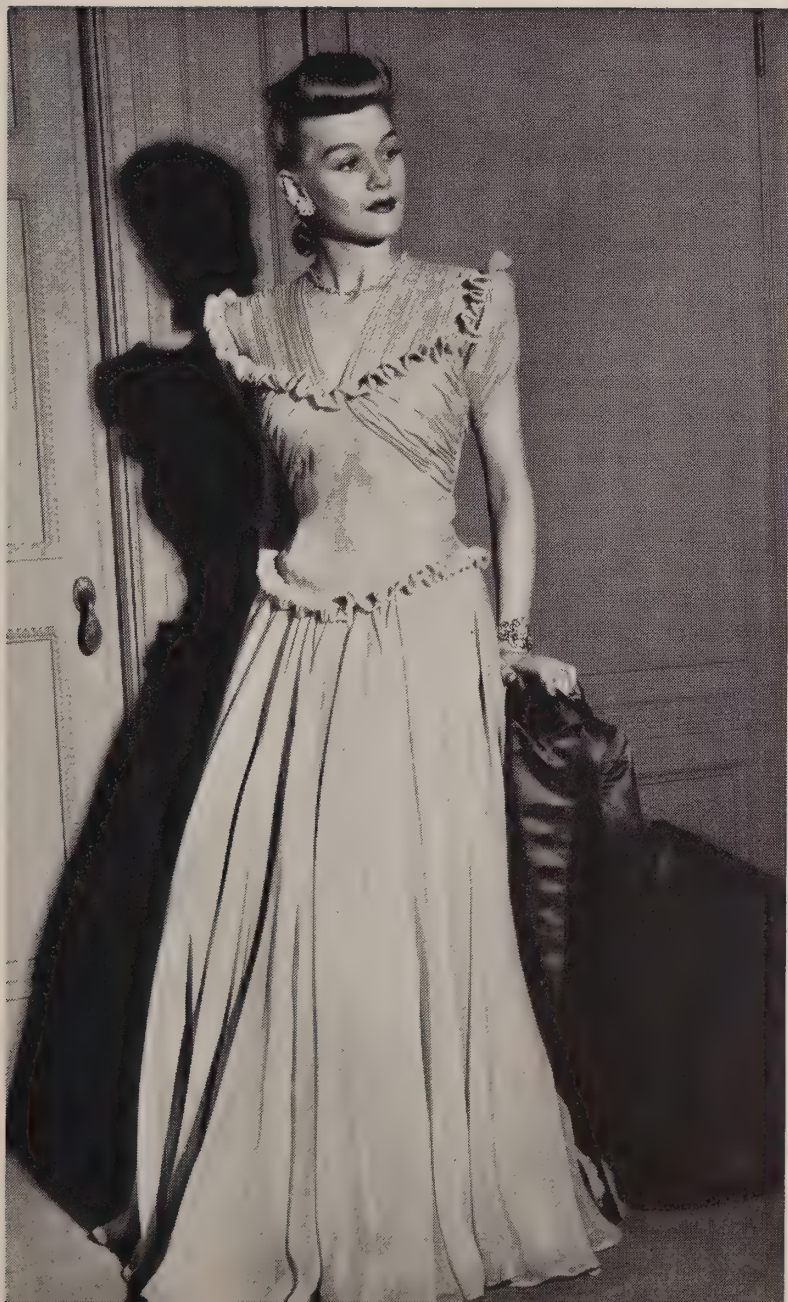

◆ ◆ ◆ ◆

Also cocktailing at the Alibi, Mrs. Daniel Dulany Hunter, in a white sports frock and dusty pink coat; her wide sailor hat echoing the pink note, in a wide pugaree band. Huaraches in terra cotta shade, were an interesting contrast!

◆ ◆ ◆ ◆

Miss Helene Farrell, an interested spectator at the Everglades Club fashion-luncheon, wore a good-looking white dress with bright red embroidery forming a deep yoke on the bodice; the red note echoed in a gay posy in her pompadour. Her sister, Mrs. Ritchey Farrell, also in white, with touches of apple green, and smart white forward-dipping hat.

Resort Fashions

Beautiful lace in pale champagne makes this Jay Thorpe gown, perfect for Southern evenings. The gown has a moulded bodice and a full skirt starting from hipline. The waist is defined by a velvet ribbon caught with flowers. The matching lace bolero is edged with fox. A three-stranded crystal neckline and bracelet and a beaded evening bag are the accessories.

There is a certain jeunesse about this dress of muted pink chiffon from Bonwit Teller, but there's witchery, too, in the way the shirring at shoulder and bosom makes the most of your figure. The full skirt gathered low at the hips will swirl gracefully when you walk. The evening coat glimpsed on the chair is designed by Nettie Rosenstein—a long satin greatcoat, in glistening green like magnolia leaves.

Tropical Sartorial Sketches

DESPITE all reports to the contrary, the male of the species is by nature a shy, retiring creature, with only a third of the bravery of his feminine contemporaries. Proof of this salient fact is found in the sartorial history of the two sexes. Until very recent years, the male refused to deviate even slightly from the conventional, standardized choke collar, scratchy broadcloth, the cutaway and striped trousers for afternoon wear and all of the slightly ludicrous sartorial impedimenta that caused the poor chaps to look so respectably uncomfortable.

This page is dedicated to the courageous trail-blazers in Palm Beach and other smart resorts, who have cast off the shackles of masculine restraint and are now on almost even terms with the ladies, in expressing their individualities in bursts of color, and demanding comfort in their resort attire, rather than conformity to outworn sartorial precepts.

Not that the transition from the still stuffily formal attire in metropolitan centers to Palm Beach casual wear is an overnight one, mind you. One of the most interesting phases of the season here is the gradual emergence of the masculine resorter from the cocoon of colorless conventional clothes to dashing sunny sports coats and carelessly graceful slacks.

We have now reached that particular point in the Palm Beach season, when the men no longer hide behind a convenient post with their red, white and blue plaided sports coat and brilliant cerise trousers as they glimpse a recently arrived Rotarian from the old home town. As a matter of fact, today finds the newcomer greeted with loud and racuous laughter if he be clad in sober garments, and such pithy appellations as "Undertaker's Assistant", and "Well Dressed Embalmer" cropping up in the conversation.

The fact that there are isolated instances of a newcomer to discard the stand up collar and tie for the open-at-the-throat sport shirt and loose colorful sports wear; does not daunt or deter the hardy souls who have dared to vie with their wives and sweethearts in seeking new color combinations, but acts instead as an incentive to more daring sartorial conquests.

Usually in the forefront of the standard bearers of the new freedom is the bronzed and informally clad Mr. Alfred V. Leaman 3rd., who owns a wardrobe that would have shocked Ward McAllister, New York society's former dictator, into insensibility. Every color in the rainbow is represented in Mr. Leaman's extensive wardrobe and his friends claim that there are several colors that even the rainbow hasn't achieved.

Glimpsed recently at the Alibi with several friends Mr. Leaman was a synchronized sunset in yellow, beige and bright beautiful cerise. His exquisitely fashioned sports coat was of yellow corduroy; his neckerchief of silk cerise; his trousers in the same shade of cerise and his shoes the ultimate word in picturesque Mexican huaraches.

Prince Alexis Obolensky, one of the resort's most popular figures, is another winter resident who dares to deviate even from accepted concepts of resort attire. The tall broad shouldered amateur golfer and polo enthusiast was seen on Worth Avenue the other day wearing a striking nautical model sports coat of silk corduroy, in a pastel shade of green, with russet colored linen trousers. As the finishing touch Prince Obolensky sported thong leather sandals.

Mr. Jacob L. Webb, the irrepressible, is just as apt to show up at the resort's smart gathering spots in a leather jacket and dungarees as in tastefully chosen sports attire. Strolling down Worth Avenue on a recent sunny day, Mr. Webb was wearing a pistachio green sports shirt, a sports coat in at least six colors and silk corduroy trousers of brightest bright royal green.

His friends say that when more attractively tailored and colorful resort wear is worn, it will be sported by Mr. Aksel C. P. Wichfeld, who is seen daily in sports ensembles that are the envy of the colony's best dressed contingent. Mr. Wichfeld is fortunate in being constructed along the lines of the tall, lithe chaps seen in Esquire and other smart masculine magazines and seems to be able to wear even an ordinary drab slack suit with an air of distinction. Not that he is often glimpsed in anything drab or even faintly conservative.

Colorful Tommy Goodwin, perennial amateur golf champ of the resort, can always be counted upon for something virile and smart in casual wear. Tall, bronzed and well set up, Mr. Goodwin is another example of the ideal subject for the tailor's art.

Assisting at the weekly Tombola recently at the Everglades Club, Mr. Goodwin was noted in the Orange Gardens clad in Royal Blue sports coat of English tweed, trousers of an interesting shade in blue gray and a dashing neckerchief of powder blue. Thong sandals finished off this carefree picture of dashing resort wear.

Nassau Welcomes International Set

WITH the advent of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor into the Bahamian social picture, Nassau finds itself the center of one of the most interesting seasons in its history. From the dreamy old world settings in its hinterlands to the sparkling, modern gathering spots, Nassau is bright with a lustre that speaks of the advent of many of the world's notables who join wholeheartedly in putting over the various benefits for war sufferers in England and in the humanitarian drives for the islands.

Lady Jane Williams Taylor, perennial chairman of the Humane Society's annual social function, is hard at work with a distinguished committee in again staging her famous "Head-Dress Ball" which brought the largest crowd ever assembled to the famous Jungle Club in Nassau last year. Everybody from His Excellency the Governor and Lady Dundas were present for this brilliant affair last season.

February seventeenth will be the date of the "Head Dress Ball" this year, with the beautiful and exotic "Jungle" again as the background. Mr. Newell Kelly, well known figure in the social and civic life of the Bahamas, is the new guiding light at the famed Fort Montagu Beach Hotel, which is having a splendid season. Mr. Kelly is also the manager for the "Jungle", which has been host to a continuity of attractive gatherings this year.

From the docks of the Fort Montagu Hotel many parties of sun-bronzed resorters are sailing away in picturesque schooners to taste of the delights of cruising over vari-colored waters and anchoring offshore within sight of Sandy Key and Rose Island. Swimming in the crystal clear waters of the sea and marvelling at the gorgeous underground marine life viewed through glass-bottom boats, followed by a picnic luncheon on a sun-kissed deck continues to prove attractive to many of the guests of this hotel.

One of the most ingeneous plans ever conceived for the incoming visitors' comfort and for the safeguarding of his health, is found at the Fort Montagu Beach Hotel. Their famed Solarium is the breaking in grounds for the tender skin of the guests who will soon be disporting themselves in the sun on the tennis courts, the golf course, on the decks of fishing and picnic schooners and other outdoor settings. Trained attendants permit only a limited and specified time to the newcomer, who lies in the sun and absorbs the actinic rays in scientifically measured doses. This goes on for several days until the visitor is bronzed and fit for any amount of exposure to old Sol. Hence the complete absence of blistered bodies and visitors suffering from over-exposure to the sun at the Fort Montagu Beach.

Out at picturesque Montagu Park, the old Maestro, Mr. George Murphy, is again welcoming visitors from two continents to Nassau's unique race track. The century old racing tradition, which is so colorfully preserved at this track was resumed recently, with a record crowd in attendance. The Duke and Duchess were of course the center of the social activity that marks this lovely track. Many gay tea parties were noted in the boxes during the races.

Nassau, incidentally, has known and loved horses and horse racing for more than a hundred years. The sport was introduced by British army officers, who founded Hobby Horse Hall on a site, which is now a part of the extensive Montagu Park development, now housing the present track.

Visitors to Mr. George Murphy's famous track will see an interesting experiment in the making. A new breed of horses are carrying the colors of Sir Harry Oakes, Mr. Tony Drexel and other socialite horse owners in Nassau. Thoroughbreds whose performances are known to all race-track goers in America, have been crossed with the stocky, tough native horses to produce a race horse more adapted to the semi-tropical climate of the Bahamas.

Horse fanciers in Nassau found that thoroughbreds of the sort that make racing on America's race tracks a thing of beauty and rhythm could not stand the warmth of the sun after generations of racing in northern climates; hence the new breed, which have proved not only interesting but entertaining to the smart throng who make Montagu Park their headquarters for one day of each week. Nassau's horse-breeders assert that this unusual breed of horse will make racing history within the new few years.

Possibly nowhere in Nassau, the city of delightful contrasts, is there a setting that more truly exemplifies the leisurely grace of life in the Bahamas, than the dreamy gardens of the Royal Victoria Hotel and the beautiful architecture of Nassau's oldest hotel.

Mrs. Frank Munson, popular member of the social colony in Nassau, and her manager Mr. Samson, have done a grand job of lighting the gardens of this historic spot, which are more beautiful than ever before. A cozy bar and a dance-floor reminiscent of the famous Cocoanut Grove of the Royal Poinciana in Palm Beach adds to the charm of the gardens.

Smart and exclusive Emerald Beach Club is once again the setting for a host of attractive parties given by the island's leading social luminaries. The Duke and Duchess have been the honor guests at many parties given at Emerald Beach this season.

A Natural Paradise for the AMATEUR camera-men will come into their own this winter at Florida's famous Cypress Gardens, where the seeker after unusual "shots" will find material that Hollywood directors travel thousands of miles to acquire for their film epics. A continuity of beautiful and fascinating tropical settings await the horde of camera and motion picture amateurs who make Florida their goal each winter.

Thousands of visitors will carry their cameras to Florida this year, in fact the exceptional tourist will be the one who is cameraless. There will be little box cameras the kind that even the professional admits will "get the picture," large jobs with plates, and tripods, and then the favorite of many of the fans, the candid type, whose owners delight in obtruse talk of angles, lense and light. Movie cameras are no more a rarity or a mystery and range from popular priced jobs to the huge modern professional machines, which appear very complicated to the amateur and are no doubt "stream-lined"—"air-conditioned"—or even "bomb proof."

The first picture that the visitor to Florida wishes to have is one of himself picking an orange. Then he tries for one of a palm tree. After that he gets one which he titles "Swimming in January" and another which he sends home with the comment, "The flowers here are beautiful, hope you don't freeze to death up there." This all means of course that it is the weather, with the apparently out-of-season flowers and greenery, that are of particular interest to those who come south. And those are the things which will go back north pictured on film, which if placed end to end might well be as long as the Florida coast line itself.

The Florida Cypress Gardens near Bok Tower in the hill and lake section of central Florida, are famous among the camera fans who have visited it as the finest of outdoor color studios. This is no chance, but the happy combination of unusual natural beauty, and a wise planning to achieve vistas with depth and balance that cannot help but produce beautiful pictures, whether in regular film or in color.

Plants, flowers and shrubbery have been placed where they will best afford groupings of harmonizing and contrasting foliage. For masses of brilliant color, Camellias, Azaleas and Bougainvillea are unsurpassed.

Water always adds to pictures. Ruffled and rippling in the breeze it gives life and action, still and in repose it reflects and doubles the beauty of the flowers and trees. The canals and lagoons at Cypress Gardens, as well as the paths produce vistas of loveliness. From the electric boats which glide quietly along one may easily obtain many views, and the rustic bridges, which cross the canals at intervals, add to natural beauty their grace and line.

The boat trip is a bonanza for the movie fan, enabling him to secure million dollar dolly effects of the scenery sliding past.

But many desire pictures which are not only beautiful, but that are unusual, with a touch of originality in their composition. For these the Cypress trees themselves are patient, uncomplaining models. Their straight column-like trunks and angular limbs hung with moss, combine in many ways against the sky and water to produce odd effects or silhouettes as the highlights change. Their bases are broadly buttressed and fluted, and about many of them are curious root formations known as "knees." Shots of these from ground level are favorites.

Another shot to be made from ground level is one of the Papyrus. Viewed against the sky the feathery heads of this historic plant give the effect of shells bursting against the sky.

Individual flowers are favorites with others. A single perfect Camellia, Hibiscus, Belgian Azalea or Gardenia, the strange and unusual blooms of the Philodendrons, Anthu-

Resort Golf and Tennis

A STELLAR field of the country's outstanding feminine golfers teed off at the Palm Beach Golf Club yesterday in the qualifying round of the annual Women's Championship over the Palm Beach Golf Club course.

At the same time, nationally known tennis amateurs in both the men and women's divisions are entering first round play in Fourth Annual South Florida Championships being held at the West Palm Beach Tennis Club at Howard Park.

Play in this event is in three divisions of men's singles, women's singles and men's doubles, with challenge trophies in competition for single events and special awards for doubles.

Such tennis luminaries as Robert L. "Bobby" Riggs, number two nationally from Chicago, Francis L. Kovacs, II, number three netter from California, Garner Mulloy from Miami and Elwood Cooke from Portland, Oregon, are entered.

In the women's division, Miss Pauline Betz, ranked number two nationally, from Rollins College and California heads the roster of feminine players consisting of Miss Dorothy Mae Bundy, another Californian, Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Cooke, Boston, Miss Doris Hart, ranked number seven in the National Girls division and hailing from Miami, as well as Mrs. Sara Comer, Miami, Miss Jane Stanton, Hollywood, Calif., Miss Kathleen Firestone, Cleveland City champion.

Others among the men include, John A. Kramer, number six Californian, Edward Allo, of Beverly Hills and Rollins College, Gus Ganzenmuller, Edward Amark, Billy Talbert, Cincinnati, August Franczyk, Polish-American champion and William Comstock of Orlando, and Charles Harris, West Palm Beach.

Tournament-tried Elizabeth Hicks, Long Beach, Calif., sharp-shooter, who is fast stepping into the shoes of the colorful Patty Berg in national golfing circles and who has been doing a fine job of the Florida circuit is on hand to defend her title in women's golf event.

Miss Hicks turned back the bid of Miss Grace Amory, popular Palm Beach socialite golfer, in the finals last year by the tally of 4 and 3 before one of the largest galleries ever to watch a finals match here.

Betty Jameson, three time national champion, from San Antonio, was forced to bow to the pretty black-haired niblick swinger in the semi-finals last season, upsetting the dope by the score of 1 up in a thrilling 23-hole semi-finals.

Miss Hicks continued her winning streak last year to take the South Atlantic championship at Ormond Beach, winning the finals from Betty Jameson, 3 and 2.

Miss Jane Cothran, seasoned younger golfer from Greenville, S. C., who caused Miss Jameson plenty of trouble in the finals of the nationals on the West Coast this summer is also on hand.

Miss Grace Amory, who has been a member of the Palm Beach colony since her childhood days, and who is one of the steadiest feminine players in the game, is back in an effort to better her finals play of last year.

Other well-known faces noted on the first tee Monday morning include those of Mrs. A. C. Critchley, the former Diana Fishwick, former British and French champion, Miss Jean Bauer, Providence, R. I., Miss who can always be depended upon to give a good accounting; Miss Marion Miley, Lexington, Ky., former tourney winner and nationally known golfer; Miss Dorothy Gardner, former Ohio State champion; Mrs. William Hockenjos, steady Lake Hopatcong, N. J., linkster; Miss Jane Evans and Mrs. E. M. Bulkley of the Siwanoy C. C., Bronxville, N. Y.; Miss Betty Ritchey, daughter of the well-known Alex Ritchie of Evansville, Ind., and a host of others.

Due to the Palm Beach Golf Club being newly renovated it is expected that the match play this year will be much more close and interesting due to the more sporty condition of the course.

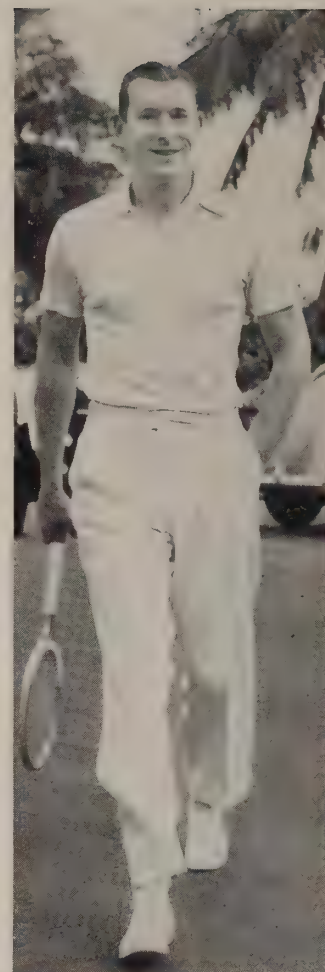

Norcross Tilney and Harry Kenny won the amateur-professional tennis round robin at the Breakers Tennis Club over a representative field of eight teams, taking 27 games and losing but 15.

Close scoring featured the remaining play with James Burns and William Kenny finishing two games behind for second place and Peter Strassburger and James Pressly took third honors with 23 games won and 19 lost.

A large gallery watched these prominent amateur and professional racquet wielders in action and were treated to some fine tennis.

Summary of play with scores:

Norcross Tilney and Harry Kenny, 27 games won and 15 lost; James Burns and William Kenny, 25 games won and 17 lost; Peter Strassburger and James Pressly, 23 won and 19 lost; William Demuth and Langford Harris, 22 won and 20 lost; Abram Nesbit and Frank Kenny, 21 won and 21 lost; Spencer Love and Dan Watson, 20 won and 22 lost;

Russell Leslie and Ed Kenny, 17 won and 25 lost; E. Tinsley, Halter and George Agutter, 14 won and 28 lost.

Action tennis was seen at the exclusive Bath and Tennis Club, when a postponed mixed doubles round robin was played off between ten teams of well-known resort amateurs.

Miss Gloria Butler and A. Parker Bryant emerged the winners in the event, winning 30 games and losing only six. Two teams tied for second place with 27 games won and 9 lost but Mrs. Jesse Spalding and Abram Nesbit defeated Miss Mary Lyons and Spencer Love in the extra set playoff by the score of 6-2.

Others taking part, with scores, were Mrs. Johnson Gensler and Thomas O'Gorman, 24 won and 12 lost; Mr. and Mrs. Norcross Tilney, 18 won and 18 lost; Miss Kathleen Kennedy and Peter Strassburger, 16 won and 20 lost; Miss Joan Wyeth and A. V. Leaman, 12 won and 24 lost; Miss Frances Gensler and Emil Schmidt, 12 won and 24 lost; Mr. and Mrs. John Gefaell, 10 won and 26 lost; Mr. and Mrs. L. Turnure, 10 won and 26 lost.

Seven teams took part in a mixed doubles round robin yesterday at the Sea Spray Beach Club with David Baldwin and Miss Elizabeth Coleman winning 19 games and losing 11.

Two teams tied for second place, each with 17 games won, 13 lost. These included Pat Fischer and Miss Bernice Tillman, LeRoy Cross and Miss Peggy Easton.

Others playing, with scores, were E. V. Van Voorhees and Miss Maureen Piers, 14 won and 16 lost; Frank D. Alburger and Mrs. Van Voorhees, 13 won and 17 lost; Robert F. Clarke and Mrs. C. Peet, 13 won and 17 lost; C. Peet and Miss Marion Buckley, 12 won, 18 lost. Jimmy Burns, club professional, supervised the play.

Mrs. Jesse Spalding and Peter Strassburger, both accomplished resort amateur netters won the Everglades Club round robin tennis tourney over a field of nine teams with 40 games won and only 8 lost.

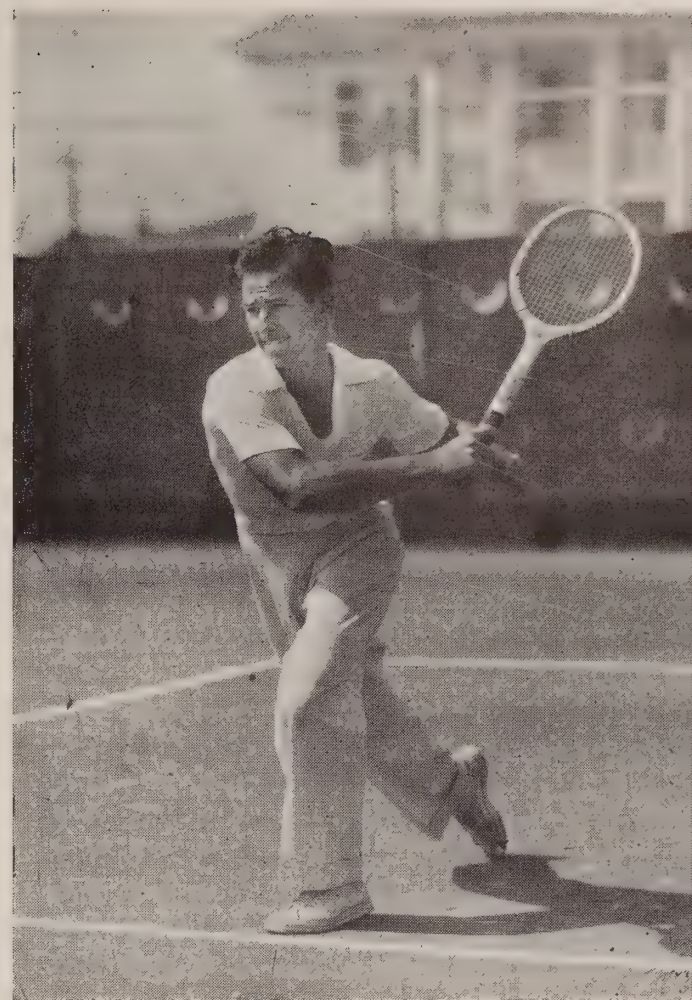

They were nine games ahead of their nearest opponents, Miss Mary Lyon and Spencer Love who nosed out Mr. and Mrs. Merril MacNeille by a one game margin, for second place, winning 31 games and losing 17.

Summary: Mrs. Jesse Spalding and Peter Strassburger, 40 games won and 8 lost; Miss Mary Lyon and Spencer Love, 31 won and 17 lost; Mr. and Mrs. Merril MacNeille, 30 won and 18 lost; Mr. and Mrs. Abram Nesbit, 22 won and 26 lost; Miss Bernice Tillman and Mrs. Walter Jacob and Edward N. Townsend, Jr., 25 won and 23 lost; A. V. Leaman, 17 won and 31 lost; Mrs. Edward N. Townsend, Jr. and A. Parker Bryant, 25 won and 23 lost; Miss Peggy Easton and P. E. Greenough, 19 won and 29 lost; Miss Marion Buckley and Nicolas Embiricos, 16 won and 32 lost.

John Cushman, well known Palm Beach and Greenville, S. C., golfer who was touted the favorite from the time he won the medal round Monday, won the 34th annual championship of the Winter Golf League of Advertising Interests when he defeated J. Ray Ferguson, Merion, Pa., advertising executive by a score of 2 and 1 over an interesting 18-hole round.

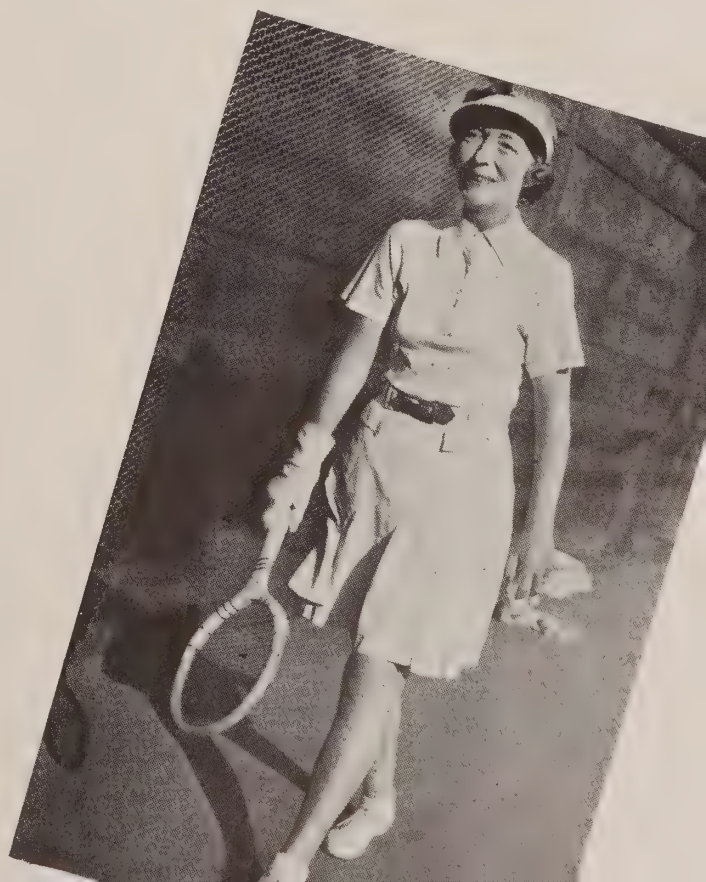

Cushman won three holes of the out-nine and halved the remainder scoring one over par at the turn for a 36 while Ferguson entered the back-nine with a 39.

Cushman went four up on the 13th but dropped his first hole of the match on the 14th green when his approach and putting went awry. He halved the next with a three and took another six to lose the 16th, halving the 17th with a four to end the match.

★ ★ ★ Under The Stars ★ ★ ★

THE Colony Club's grand opening on Wednesday of last week was the official start of its social season, with the entire resort turning out en masse to celebrate one of the most brilliant affairs ever witnessed in the history of the club. Socialites and royal personages, representing every quarter of the globe, added to make it a real gala occasion.

In one of the most beautiful and natural settings in all Florida, the Colony was transformed into a work of art for the opening. The patio, with its myriad of vari-hued lights illuminating the beautiful palm trees and gardens surrounding the dance floor, was converted into a veritable fairyland. The famed "Passy Room," with its color motif of delicate coral pink and French grey, and its indefinable air of charm and elegant beauty, provided a perfect background for the exquisite pageantry of jewels and gorgeous gowns displayed by the fair and gentler sex.

Wednesday and Saturday nights, long recognized by the resorters as the Colony Club's gala evenings, will again be featured in a series of special nights providing stellar and diversified entertainment. With continuous dance music supplied by two excellent orchestras and the high standard of French cuisine and service that the Colony has always maintained, will make these gala evenings worthy of attendance.

With the Florida weather finally coming into its own, the world-famous Patio presents a perfect picture of tropical loveliness on starlit nights, the entrancing rhythm of Val Ernie's society orchestra leaving nothing more to be desired for the many dance lovers in the resort.

The formal opening of the Patio exceeded the more than capacity crowd of New Year's Eve, formally launching the season, with the attractive luncheon gala attracting a host of the resort's smart set.

Mr. and Mrs. John Moffat of London and New York who are in residence at the Everglades club entertained with a delightful supper party at the opening for Mr. and Mrs. Jacques Stern, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Loder, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grey, Mrs. James P. Donahue, Mr. James P. Donahue, Col. and Mrs. Latham R. Reed, Mrs. Benjamin Rogers, Miss Fernanda Munn, Mr. Charles A. Munn, Mr. Gurnee Munn and Capt. Alastair Mackintosh.

Mr. Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., noted son of a famous father in the world of the cinema, and Mrs. Fairbanks, the former Mrs. G. Huntington Hartford, created quite a stir when they arrived with Mr. and Mrs. Byron C. Foy.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Farrell, Jr., the latter the former Sonia Phipps and Mr. and Mrs. Stuart S. Janney, the latter the former Barbara Phipps were also among the smart members of the younger set who enjoyed the exotic Mexican dancing of Jose and Paquita.

Mrs. Maitland Alexander of Palm Beach and Sewickly, Pa., was observed in a party with Mr. Charles B. Alexander, 2nd, and Mr. A. Laughlin Alexander, and nearby were Mrs. Eugene DuPont and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene DuPont III.

Parties of the younger set who enjoyed dancing to the rhythmic music of Val Ernie and his society orchestra included, Mr. and Mrs. Buckley Byers, Mr. and Mrs. Edward N. Townsend, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chapin. Mr. Robert Clarke, the well known polo player and Mrs. Clarke, Mrs. Antoinette Johnson and Mr. Samuel Sanford. Miss Joy Plummer and Mr. Ernest Heater, Miss Emily Gwyer and Mr. David G. Legget, Mr. and Mrs. Bowen C. "Sonny," Tufts, Miss Shirley Bell and Mr. Robert Silleck.

Sunday night beefsteak dinner parties are enjoyed by the smart set with backgammon tourneys being held during the evening in the new lounge.

Noted in a recent Sunday evening party were, Mrs. Harrison Williams, Mr. Lytle Hull, Mr. Milton Holden, Mr. Herbert Pulitzer, Miss Grace Amory and Capt. R. Amcott's Wilson.

Mrs. Joseph F. Moran was observed with Mrs. Archibald McNeil and Mrs. H. B. Naramore and Mr. Joseph D. Bannon was with Mrs. Frederick Procter, and Mr. Bradley Norman.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Lester Cuddihy, who recently arrived in the resort were observed with Mrs. Robert C. Bennett and at an adjoining table were, Col. and Mrs. Harold A. Braman and Mr. and Mrs. Van Lear Black. Others noted included, Mr. and Mrs. Howell Van Gerbig, Mr. and Mrs. Nicolas Embiricos, Mr. and Mrs. E. Stewart Davis.

Charles Alexander occupied a dance floor table with Mrs. Henry King Harding and others noted in twosomes included, Prince Mikhail Goundoroff and Miss Margaret Creem, Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Graf, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. James King Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. W. Ross McCulloch, Mr. and Mrs. George B. McClennan, Mr. and Mrs. James Powers, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ittleton, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Speno.

MR. GURNEE MUNN

Well known member of the resort colony shown with his charming daughter, Miss Fernanda Munn, bound for an evening at the fashionable Patio.

Miami Beach

SOcial doings in the Pancoast Hotel in Miami Beach speed up as guests join the colony for seasonal sojourns.

Countess Laszlo Szechenyi of New York and Newport, who is here for another visit, devotes her leisure daily to surf swimming and sun basking on the private beach of this ocean front hotel.

Mrs. Baldwin Day Spilman, Sr., of Elway Hall in Warrenton, Va., annual Pancoast guest, is here for an extended visit. Accompanying her is her titian-haired granddaughter, Miss Anne Barrett of Warrenton, who is receiving many attentions from socialites in the cottage colony of this resort.

Prior to a stay at the Mill Pond Plantation in Thomasville, Ga., Mrs. Edward Belden Greene and sister-in-law, Miss Lucy Greene, both of Cleveland, are relaxing at the Pancoast.

Mrs. J. Franklin Keeney, who makes her home in the Plaza Hotel, New York, has joined the Pancoast colony. She is accompanied by her son, Mr. Perry H. Keeney.

Hialeah and the "hosses" have attraction for Mrs. Joseph M. Jones and her father, Dr. Rowley M. Penick of New Orleans, who are resorters at the Pancoast. Included in their travel plans is a dash to Havana, Cuba.

Mrs. John J. Blondel of Montclair, N. J., member of the winter colony at the Pancoast many years, has returned for her annual stay. She is accompanied by her daughter, Miss Katherine "Tukie" Blondel, a well known horsewoman, and son, Mr. John de Carteret Blondel.

Mrs. Charles Henry Cates of Youngstown, Ohio, entertained with luncheon the other day in the Mediterranean Room of the Pancoast for a group of friends of long time standing, Mrs. Richard Garlick of Youngstown, at whose wedding Mrs. Cates was the maid of honor, and Miss Alice Blaine of Cincinnati (of the Presidential family), and Mr. and Mrs. George Claypool of Pittsburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hummel of Hopewell, Va., are observing their annual visit at the Pancoast, and are joining in many of the pastimes in this resort with other Virginian colonists. They are members of the Cavalier Beach Club in Virginia Beach, where the summer months find them extending hospitality at their cabana.

A recently arrived family group at the Pancoast is Mrs. James T. Skelly, of Wilmington, Del., her attractive daughter, Miss Gertrude and son, Mr. James T. Skelly. With them is Mrs. Skelly's sister, Miss Elizabeth McFarland of Knoxville.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hawkins of Atlanta are among week-end hosts at the Pancoast. They entertained in compliment to Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Elkin of Atlanta, and the Misses Margaret and Charlotte Duncan of Stanford, Ky.

Disembarking from the S. S. America in Havana, Cuba, after visits in the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico, Salvatore Cutillo of Mt. Kisco is at the Pancoast. She will be joined here soon by her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Carlo Paterno of Greenwich, Conn.

Sojourning at this hotel are Mr. and Mrs. William H. Martin of Detroit. With them is little Miss Jean Ellen Martin.

Mrs. George Simpson of River Forest, Ill., Pancoast colonist, entertained in this hotel the other night in honor of the birthday anniversary of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. G. Elden Simpson, who is sojourning here with her husband, Mr. Simpson. Cocktails in the Canary Lounge preceded dinner. The afternoon was passed at the races, after luncheon in the clubhouse. Among the party guests were Dr. and Mrs. T. H. Culhane of Rockford, Ill.

Mrs. William Hill Cooper, who recently returned to her home in Pine Tree Drive in Miami Beach after a few weeks' visit in Amsterdam, N. Y., entertained recently with dinner at the Pancoast in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Priddy of Montclair.

After motoring through many states and finally reaching their southwest destination in New Mexico, Mrs. Willis Getchell and Mrs. Hat H. Barrows, both of Waterville, Me., headed eastward for the Atlantic Seaboard, visiting New Orleans en route to Miami Beach. They are guests at the Pancoast in this Florida resort.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Funkhouser, of Hagerstown, Md., have returned to the Pancoast for their annual visit . . . with the conga one of their favorite diversions.

Wishful thinking is expected to bring Dr. Jean Crump of Philadelphia to the Pancoast to join her mother, Mrs. Thomas Crump, Philadelphia, and sister, Mrs. Carl Collins of Worcester, Mass. They are annual visitors here.

Former Governor and Mrs. John M. Slaton of Atlanta are prominent members of the Georgian colony at the Pancoast.

Mr. and Mrs. George V. La Monte of Bound Brook, N. J., annual resorters, are here.

The adorable little girl in blue and white pinafore, Alice in Wonderland type is Ann Robinson. She is at the Pancoast with her father, Mr. Ralph S. Robinson of Gastonia, N. C. And the little blonde playmate of Ann's is Isabella Roberts, who is here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elzey Roberts of St. Louis.

Mr. Bernard E. Finucane and his son Frederick of Rochester, N. Y., are here for their annual visit, with the happy prospect that other members of the family may join them.

The newly wedded Mr. and Mrs. Jack Conill of Havana, Cuba, are honeymooning for several weeks at the Pancoast. The bride is the former Miss Helen Thomson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Thompson of Havana, in which city the marriage was solemnized in the Chapel of the Church of Santa Cruz.

Dr. and Mrs. Winthrop Adams of Bedford, Mass., who are Pancoast colonists, seem to find their greatest relaxation in surf swimming and basking on the hotel beach.

Mr. and Mrs. S. De Witt Clough, Glencoe, Ill., of the "bridge coterie", have returned to the Pancoast for their usual visit.

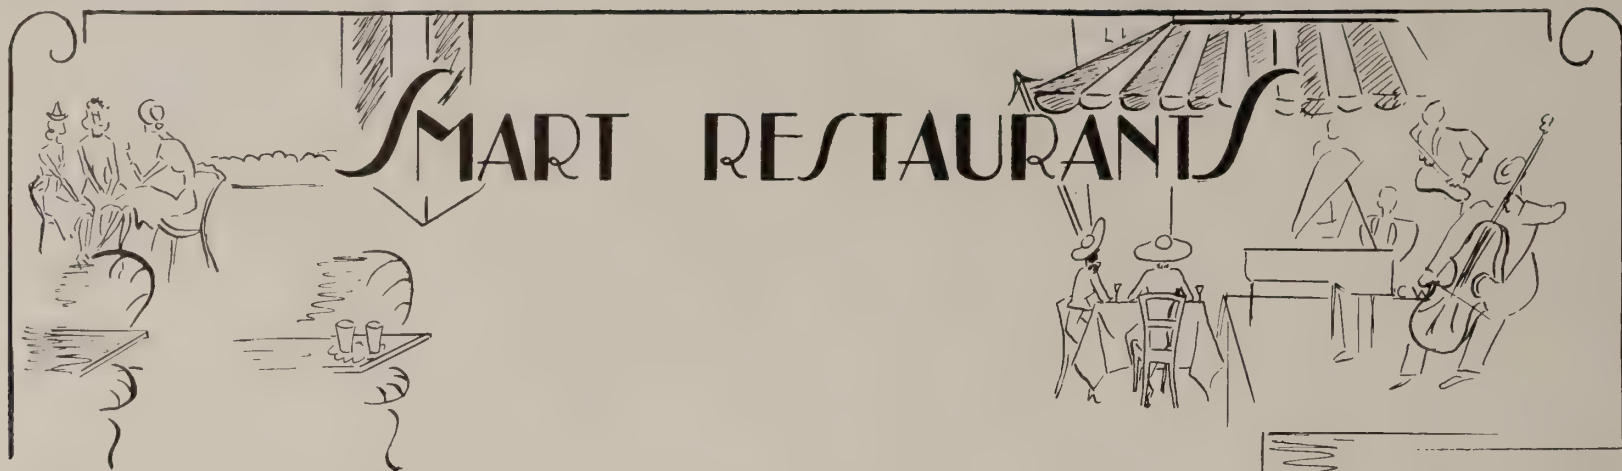

Mr. Robert Mueller of Decatur, Ill., well known in the cottage colony in this resort, is a guest at the Pancoast.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Fisher, Biltmore Forest, Asheville, were luncheon hosts this week at the Pancoast, as was Mrs. Karl Boyed of Berryville, Va.

Mr. William H. Bingham, II, of Bethel, Me., entertained with luncheon this week at the Pancoast for Mr. and Mrs. Sam Blackwood of Bethel and Mrs. Charlotte Stevens of Boston, who arrived in this resort by motor, after a stay in Key West.

Mrs. Casper W. Hacker of Bryn Mawr, Pa., is a guest at the Pancoast Hotel. She is president of the Philadelphia branch of the Needlework Guild of America.

Relaxing in this resort are Mr. and Mrs. W. Gwynn Gardiner of Washington, D. C. They are at the Pancoast. Mr. Gardiner is a prominent attorney in the Nation's Capital.

ALL the charm and nostalgia of the old world is found at Mayerling, that bit of Imperial Vienna in the Worth Avenue Arcade. Because of its convenient location, weary shoppers find Mayerling an ideal place to lunch. They relax and recover their sense of well-being in the sunny patio which is sheltered by a huge banyan tree.

Mayerling is especially tempting to the gourmet who knows and appreciates the finer subtleties of a carefully planned menu. It is a compliment to his own fine tastes. But the high quality of the cuisine at Mayerling is never sacrificed for dishes that are only exotic and bizarre. The delectable meals at Mayerling are refreshingly different and possess a certain appeal to jaded appetites.

Dining under the stars is an ever-popular pastime with the smart set. Dr. and Mrs. Chester H. Morris were hosts at a dinner party at Mayerling recently. Their guests included Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Turnure, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Quinn, Mrs. W. W. Forrester, Mrs. Guy D. Randle, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Kolb, Mr. J. W. Fribley, Mrs. Charles Randle and Mr. Mario de Tullio.

Mrs. Skinker Matthews was hostess to Mrs. Ethel M. Broadwater. Mrs. Thomas McKay Royal lunched with Mrs. Robert Appleton. Mrs. Wade H. Carpenter and Mrs. Charles D. Easton. Mrs. McAlpin Bell and Mrs. Bache McE. Whitlock lunched together.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Dennie Boardman were dinner hosts to Mrs. George Dixon and Miss Mabel Preston. Mrs. Marjorie Oelrichs dined with Dr. Hobart E. Warren. Mrs. William H. Buckley was hostess to a party of three.

Others seen at Mayerling frequently are Everit A. Herter with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Herter, Mrs. Sawyer Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Embiricos, Mr. and Mrs. D. Dulany Hunter, Capt. Alastair Mackintosh, Mr. William de Rham, Mrs. Walter Scott Goodwillie, Miss Joanna Fortune, Mr. and Mrs. Sedgwick Minot, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Volk, Mrs. Wanamaker Munn and Mr. Manuel Cervantes.

Attracting much attention this season is the new and popular Dixie Inn, situated on the North Dixie Highway, a few minutes pleasant drive along the shore of Lake Worth and only five minutes from the center of Palm Beach. Entirely redecorated, it has been styled after a famous old English Tavern, with hand hewn beams and paneled walls, and has an atmosphere of refreshing charm and dignity.

Well into its eighth season and again under the same congenial management of Jimmy North, it is still attracting and satisfying its select clientele. Opening at cocktail time, it carries on through the evening with dinner dancing and late suppers. As in past seasons, it is noted for its famous French cuisine, perfectly appointed service and high standard of entertainment.

Direct from a long engagement with one of the leading pleasure cruise lines is, Jimmy Stipek, with his melodious dance band and his famous accordion. For those who are terpsichorean minded a new and superb dance floor has been added.

Among guests noted and entertaining there recently were: Mr. and Mrs. Nicolas Embiricos with a small party of friends, Mr. Gurnee Munn, Miss Fernanda Munn, Mr. and Mrs. Henry K. Harding, Mrs. Alfred J. Brosseau, Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Topping, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Zuver.

Others noted were: Mrs. Joseph F. Moran with a party of four, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Adler entertained with a dinner for Mr. Edmund L. Goodman, Mr. Jake Webb was noted with a party of the younger set, Mr. and Mrs. William DeMuth, Mr. and Mrs. Max Horwitz, Mr. Thorne Donnelley, Mrs. Henderson Marks and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Feltman.

The Chambord, famous for its French cuisine and excellent appointments, is one of the most popular of resort restaurants. Ramon Littee's Ensemble adds the musical background during dinner and cocktail time, while a truly French provincial menu is complimented with rare wines and liquors.

Dr. and Mrs. Andre Crotti who have a cottage at Jupiter Island entertained Miss Lydia Hamilton of the Jupiter Island Club at dinner at the Chambord recently.

Miss Vera Ganue was the dinner guest of her sister, Mrs. Donald Woodward, and Mr. Harold Kaplow entertained several friends.

Mrs. Charles O. Parsons, who returned from a trip to New York, was the dinner guest of Mrs. Elisha Dyer Hubbard and Mr. Edward V. Quinn was host at a dinner at the noted restaurant.

Dining together at the Chambord one night were Mrs. Michael Phipps, Mr. Charles B. Alexander, Mrs. C. Drayton Cochran and Mr. A. L. Alexander.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Van Vleck of Washington, D. C., were a twosome at dinner as were Mr. and Mrs. George B. Sage of Rochester, N. Y., who were en route from Daytona to Miami.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth G. Smith were hosts at a small dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Felix La Tour of Sand Dunes, Manalapan, entertained at dinner for their house guest, Mrs. Berthe Trouche, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. DesFosses of Boca Raton.

Mr. and Mrs. John Volk and Mr. and Mrs. William Watt, Jr., were in another group at dinner. Mrs. Edwin Goodman was among guests of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Chandler.

Mrs. John H. Terry represented the local chapter of the American Red Cross at the Chambord in their annual Roll Call Day. A percentage of the restaurant's receipts was given to the American Red Cross.

Mrs. Bruno Schwill entertained at dinner for her house guest, Miss Harriet Norris of New York. Mr. Franklin Berwyn and Mr. Arthur Nesereaux were together at dinner.

Dr. Joseph Jordan Eller dined with Dr. Rasch and Mr. and Mrs. William Doeller were a twosome at dinner last week.

The sunny Sidewalk Cafe and Patio Vert at the Chambord are charming settings for luncheon parties. Expert cuisine of provincial France is featured at this favorite rendezvous of the gourmet where innumerable parties of resorters are noted daily.

Mrs. Helen S. Tunell, who motored from Miami Beach, was hostess at a luncheon at the Chambord.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hoyt entertained at luncheon in the Sidewalk Cafe recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Rowland were hosts at a luncheon party at the Chambord. Their guests included Mr. and Mrs. Eugene DuPont, Mrs. R. S. Harris, Mrs. E. D. Wainwright, and Lt. Col. and Mrs. John Bayne Maclean.

Mr. Blythe Branch entertained at luncheon for Mrs. Paul Lennon. In another group were Mrs. Raymond Guest, Mrs. Henry K. Harding, and Mr. Charles B. Alexander. Mr. George White, former Governor of Ohio, lunched with Mrs. White at the Chambord last week, and Mr. W. M. Elkins entertained a group.

The charming and attractive new South Ocean Club, located on South Ocean Boulevard, made its formal bow into Palm Beach society on Wednesday evening, January 22, with many socialites attending the gala dinner dance.

Sponsors of the new organization, which will be supervised by Mr. Jack A. Mitchell, prominent Palm Beach club man for many years, have concentrated on providing a clubhouse primarily for the entertainment and complete pleasure of members and guests.

The club in its entirety took less than two months to create—from the moment when the thought was first conceived in the minds of a group of well-known Palm Beach men in the latter part of November, 1940, until its formal opening on January 22.

The building is in the West Indian colonial style, painted white, with two stories, and designed so as to afford unobstructed views of the broad Atlantic and the limpid waters of Lake Worth.

The lower floor is used for the beach club, the upper as a restaurant—with a beautiful teakwood floor—while nearly 700 feet of ocean frontage is available for beach use. Colorful portable dugout cabanas are being used and lockers and showers are located in the clubhouse.

Behind the bar in the cocktail room, which is colorfully decorated in yellow, brown and chartreuse colors with cypress and mirrored panels, a huge painting—"The Headhunters"—done in glass is decorative and genius-like fashion by R. Bushnell Hyman, is an exceptional feature, while a large Waugh seascape hangs in the lounge.

The outdoor grill on the terrace, adjoining the dining room and facing the lake, is another major attraction. This will be used broiling chicken, steaks and chops in the out-of-doors. The circular dance floor has been built on this loggia.

Highlighting the club's formal opening was the rhythmic melodies of Don Ferrara's Latin-American orchestra, only one of this type in the Palm Beach sector, which was received with great enthusiasm. During the season, many prominent singers of international fame will appear.

An interesting dinner party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Byron Chandler, whose guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. W.

Chapin, Mrs. John T. Gibbs, Mrs. Edwin Goodman, Mr. Raymond Bill, Mr. Chauncey Williams, Mr. Theodore Marvin and Mr. Martin Griffith.

At a nearby table Mrs. Arthur Hudson Marks' guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. Maurice Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert J. Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. William Watt, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John L. Volk, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Witman, Mrs. Bennett Chapple, Mr. and Mrs. R. Royce Kent, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Jessup, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Waters and Mr. Wilbur F. Stutz.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Graf were hosts to Prince Mikhail Goundoroff, Mr. and Mrs. John O'Day, and Mrs. Edward Roddy, Jr.

In Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Salisbury's party were Mr. and Mrs. C. Henry Buhl and Mr. and Mrs. George S. Fenton.

Observed also was the interesting group who were in Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Stout's party, including Mrs. Albert Kirkerger, Mr. and Mrs. A. Shellenbrager, Mrs. John E. Blair and Miss Mildred Blair.

Entertaining a group of their house guests were Mr. and Mrs. Noel Marshall Seeburg.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. Walter Kagan were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Judge, Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Moore, Miss Charlotte Hunt, Mr. Milton Hoos, Mrs. Ethele Mae Chichester and Mr. Lamar Glazier.

Mrs. Mary K. Ellis entertained a group including Mrs. Suzanne Jordan, Mrs. Alberta Stahelin, Dr. T. E. Dinan, Mr. A. F. Adams, Mr. Louis Off, Mrs. C. J. James and Mr. Michael Harmon.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reisinger had two guests, and among others attending the opening were Mrs. Peggy LeBaron, Mrs. G. Howard Hodge and Mr. John J. Dwyer of New York.

Try Jamaica's "Favorite Five"

JAMAICA HIGHBALL

One of the most popular and refreshing Rum drinks. Pour a dash of Jamaica Rum over a few cubes of ice and add a splash of Dry Ginger Ale. Also delightful when mixed with Soda.

JAMAICA COCKTAIL

One half cocktail glass of Jamaica Rum and an equal measure of sweet Vermouth; add plenty of cracked ice, stir well and enjoy a new and fascinating Jamaica Rum Cocktail.

JAMAICA PUNCH

One part lime juice; two parts sugar or syrup; three parts Jamaica Rum; four parts water (in warm climate three parts water and lots of cracked ice). Shake well. Serve immediately.

JAMAICA NOG

Mix one part sweetened condensed milk with an equal portion of Jamaica Rum; shake well with cracked ice, serve with a cherry and you have a most delicious short drink.

JAMAICA COLLINS

Mix one part of lime juice, two parts of sugar or syrup, four parts of Jamaica Rum and an equal measure of Soda Water. Add cracked ice, stir briskly, drink through a straw.

JAMAICA
THE ROYALTY OF Rums

The victories at sea, the coronations of a dozen queens and kings—all the great events that marched in Britain's cavalcade of years—have been toasted in JAMAICA rum. Today the connoisseur—choosing "light" for cocktails and highballs and "dark" for punches and noggs—specifies JAMAICA even more emphatically than ever. Yet their costs are lower than those of comparably fine imported whiskies and brandies.

The Sun never sets on

It gives you a deep sense of satisfaction when you order a drink "made with Gilbey's Gin" to realize that at the very same minute other men who know fine liquors are sitting at far-away windows with that same familiar Gilbey's bottle beside them. For nearly a century now, the sun has never set on Gilbey's Gin . . . because millions of men have found, as you will, too, that Gilbey's makes a great drink greater!

Cottage Colony Society Life

RUSTLING PALMS and the soothing murmur of the sea are playing an accompaniment to a veritable barrage of parties in the Cottage Colony at this phase of the season. Everyone is either in the process of entertaining or being entertained at one of the beautiful sea-side and lake front mansions these days, judging from the number of gay gatherings noted in Palm Beach's exclusive residential colony.

Not content with the stereotyped and more or less conventional luncheon, dinner and late supper parties, society has now gone in for the revolutionary breakfast party. True, many a host and many a guest at a Palm Beach house party has raided the ice box in the early morning hours after enjoying a night on the town, but we find now that the early morning snack is to receive official recognition and that the breakfast party is here to stay.

With true Palm Beach inconsistency, however, breakfast has been postponed until an hour of the day when everyone is sure to be up, with around high noon the accepted hour for these delightfully unconventional gatherings.

Trail-brazers in this precedent shattering innovation are Mr. and Mrs. James W. McGaughey, who started the fad in Palm Beach, by entertaining at breakfast in the patio of their beautiful home on Monterey Road for Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nicholson, Mr. and Mrs. William Q. Cain, Mr. and Mrs.

R. Royce Kent, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Evans, Mrs. Evelyn McLaughlin Gray, Miss Joya Barton, Mr. Wilbur Strutz and Mr. Dwight Paul.

The Harold S. Vanderbilts, who are one of the most prominent exponents of the leisurely graceful life in the Palm Beach area, have been entertaining at the informal quiet little parties for which Mrs. Vanderbilt is noted. With Mr. Vanderbilt often closeted for hours with other world famous exponents of bridge, Mrs. Vanderbilt has acquired the knack of giving small intimate parties that will not interfere with her brilliant husband's slams and contracts, and will insure the happiness of her house guests.

Among the members of the Vanderbilt house party are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Davis of Heydey House, Roslyn, Long Island, and Mr. and Mrs. Fulton Cutting of New York and Southampton. Regular visitors from time to time at the Lantana residence of the Harold Stirling Vanderbilts are Oswald Jacoby and other noted exponents of contract bridge.

Bridge, however, does not monopolize the time of either of the Vanderbilts at their lovely estate. Their immaculately groomed tennis courts and swimming pool have been the background for many hours of outdoor activity by both Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt.

Across a narrow strip of lake from the Vanderbilts, the almost feudal island home of Col. and Mrs. Louis Jacques Balsan has also been the setting for many interesting and attractive parties. A perennial house guest at the Balsan home is the popular Elsa Maxwell, who is naturally the life of the lovely little parties given by Mme. Balsan.

Practically everything from their own beautifully landscaped golf course to primitive jungle beauty make the Balsan estate on Hypoluxo Island one of the most unique of the resort estates. Guests to this idyllic spot find themselves in the center of a setting that is the ideal background for browsing in the Florida sunshine and relaxing from their cares and social obligations. Parties here are spontaneous and never social obligations.

Mrs. Norman Hill's lovely home "Louwana" was the setting recently for an interesting dinner party. Their home was beautifully decorated throughout with fresh cut flowers and tastefully arranged tropical plants. Later in the evening, the group went to the Patio for supper and dancing.

Enjoying the evening with the hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Newell Tilton, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Dempsey, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Dulany Hunter, Mrs. J. Levitt Steele, Mrs. Antoinette Johnson, Miss Fernanda Munn, Mr. Gurnee Munn, Mr. William Rhinelander Stewart and Mrs. Hill's house guests, Baron George Wrangel and Mr. Thomas Prosser.

Many of the social colony are enjoying a series of luncheon and bridge parties that have their inception in the cottage colony and oftentimes wind up at the Everglades Club.

Mrs. Olaf Nelson Tevander, popular member of the cottage colony entertained recently at bridge at her Barton Avenue residence, following a luncheon at the Everglades Club. Among her guests were Mrs. Harry Nathaniel Gifford, Mrs. Charles Herendeen, Mrs. Ellsworth C. Warner, Mrs. Jesse A. Smith, Mrs. James H. Kennedy, Mrs. Charles S. Davis, Mrs. Thomas Brahamney, Mrs. William H. Lyon, Mrs. Richard Deming, Mrs. Bert Winters, Mrs. Blaine Zuver, Mrs. Robert H. Morse.

Also, Mrs. Marvin Hughitt, Mrs. Edward Scott Beck, Mrs. H. Winfield Chapin, Mrs. Vincent Oaksmith, Mrs. A.

Miss Spencer's wool crepe jacket suit buttons all the way down the front and has the new collarless neckline. Her white felt hat has a peacock feather and white suede gloves to match.

O. Edwards, Mrs. Walter W. Foskett, Mrs. Forrest Mars, Mrs. Charles Long, Mrs. George Weber, Mrs. William C. Fisher, Mrs. Catherine M. Legget, Mrs. Harry Carle, Mrs. Herbert Sheldon Johnson, Mrs. Nettie Livermore, Mrs. Thompson Thomas and Mrs. George Marshall.

Alternating between fascinating fishing parties to the Keys and entertaining at his home for a group of friends, Mr. Raymond Royce Kent and his house guests have shuttled back and forth between Cat Cay, Bimini and Palm Beach. In the Kent house party are Mr. and Mrs. James F. Waters, Miss Joya Barton, Mr. Wilbur F. Stutz and Mr. Harold Moundrell.

Several attractive parties have been given for the guests in the lovely setting of the Kent's home, "Mi Encanto" in Manalapan. Miss Joya Barton of San Francisco and Mrs. James F. Waters have acted as hostesses for a number of interesting gatherings.

Miss Grace Amory and her stepfather, Mr. Herbert Pulitzer, have entertained at many small parties this season. Their Middle Road residence was the background recently for a novel dinner party, with the highlight of the evening a showing in their private theatre of the motion picture "The Letter" starring Bette Davis.

Among the guests at the Pulitzer home were Mr. and Mrs. Byron C. Foy, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. Jay O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Loder, Mrs. Hamilton Williams and her guest, Miss Louise Iselin, Mrs. Margaret Emerson and her guests, Mrs. Arthur Somers Roche, Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Hopping Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Waterbury.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Sanford, Mr. and Mrs. T. Dennie Boardman, Miss Mary Munn, Miss Marjorie di Wardinere, Miss Lyna Rodriguez, Miss Fernanda Munn, Mr. Charles A. Munn, Mr. William Rhinelander Stewart, Mr. Lytle Hull, Captain Alastair Mackintosh and Mr. Milton Holden.

Of interest to the various workers for British Relief and Bundles for Britain in Palm Beach, is the presence of eight refugee children from England, who are guests at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Phipps and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Phipps on North County Road.

The children, accompanied by three nurses and Miss Ann Bazley, who is in charge of them, came from New York after an eventful passage across the Atlantic and will be with the Phipps family for the duration of the war.

Among the meetings of interest in the cottage colony this season was a recent gathering of the members of the Palm Beach Garden Club, held at the home of Mrs. George Alexander McKinlock on Vita Serena.

It was announced at the meeting that Mrs. Robert Glendinning had received an award from the Massachusetts Horticultural Society for her beautiful landscaping Fairmont Park in Philadelphia, done in honor of the late Mr. Glendinning. Mrs. Lawrence Turnure, president of the Santa Barbara Garden Club, was one of the many outstanding members of garden clubs from all over the country attending the meeting.

The opening of many of the colony's gorgeous estates for the purpose of raising money to send a mobile canteen to England was one of the outstanding subjects discussed at this meeting.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Lindsley Loring gave a talk on Iris Gardening. Miss Margaret Evans, who arranges the floral decorations at the Everglades Club, answered questions on flower arrangements. Refreshments were served after the business meeting.

Tropical Sartorial Sketches

WITH the advent of the technicolor motion pictures, perhaps the world may be accorded a glimpse of the sartorial splendor of Palm Beach's masculine resorters; a splendor that could never be hinted at in the rotogravure sections of the metropolitan newspapers and the colorless motion pictures. Some enterprising movie entrepreneur is certainly missing a bet in not making a technicolor motion picture short featuring tropical sartorial creations.

Worth Avenue on a sunny day is the mecca for the seeker after something different in sartorial thrills. If there is a style innovation in America that hasn't appeared on this famous thoroughfare this season, it must have been created yesterday, for each day finds something new in men's appointments making its initial bow at the various smart gathering spots on the avenue.

One of the smartest of the 1941 style innovations is the collarless blazer worn by Mr. Daniel Dulany Hunter, popular member of the Palm Beach social colony and secretary of the Everglades Club. Mr. Hunter was glimpsed recently in a swank carmine shirt, beige colored collarless blazer and a really gorgeous shade of yellow trousers. His feet were incased in colorful Mexican Huaraches and his socks matched the sunset in their many hued grandeur.

Mr. James P. Donahue can always be counted upon for something different in resort wear. Seen recently at one of Worth Avenue's smart gathering spots, he was wearing cerise trousers; a sport coat of cream colored corduroy, a lovely shirt of the same shade and slip-on sandals. His neckerchief was of deepest russet.

Always the center of a gay party at the Alibi during the fashionable cocktail hour, Mr. David Graham Legget was glimpsed recently with an interesting group of friends. He was wearing one of the new Hawaiian print sports shirts, with a bright red background relieved by a large flower pattern, gray slacks and gray-striped wool sports coat. One of his guests, Mr. Ernest Heath, went in for the casual shirt over trousers style, with his South Sea sports shirt a varicolored rainbow of shades and his shetland wool trousers in an interesting shade of green.

Prince Alexis Obolensky stepped from a sleek long town car the other day wearing a jacket in natural color shetland with a colored overplaid the slacks gray flannel; the hat a body straw with a pugree band, light blue shirt and tie with white gulls on a blue ground. His shoes were brown bucko.

Vying with Palm Beach's sartorial elegants was Mr. Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., famed motion picture star and recently a popular member of Mrs. J. Jay O'Brien's house party. Mr. Fairbanks sported a continuity of beautiful sports coats that had such color-bearers as Mr. Robert Appleton and other famed sartorial sunsets gasping with envy. Stepping aboard his boat recently with a gay party, Hollywood's famous star was wearing a smart nautical cap, a shetland wool sports coat of pistachio with an undertone of red; bright yellow sports shirt, neckerchief of carmine; trousers of gray flannel and comfortable resort sandals.

Mr. Edward V. Quinn is one of the colony's ten best dressed men and can always be counted upon for something different in resort wear. He was captured recently by the staff of cameramen who are ever on the alert for distinctive men's styles, clad in a suede jacket of interesting design; emerald green shirt with a darker green neckerchief; tan flannel trousers; socks of red and green and a new type of Mexican sandal.

Mr. William Rhinelander Stewart, long listed among America's best dressed ten, and last year's winner of the world's best dressed man award; is never conspicuous in his choice of colors, but is always immaculately clad in appropriate resort hues. Glimpsed recently with a group of friends on Worth Avenue, Mr. Stewart was wearing a checked shirt of brown and cream; that unusual appurtenance of men's wear, a tie, which was also of brown and cream; a sports coat of brown with a fine line of a deeper shade of brown, cream colored flannels and natural colored "Loafers."

In the same group, Mr. William de Rham was interesting in a basque shirt with a fine red stripe; varicolored neckerchief; a casual sports coat of checked doeskin in a beige background and doeskin trousers in a deep gray. Mr. Lytle Hull was appropriately cool in a white flannel suit and white shetland wool sport shirt. Mr. Milton Holden was wearing dark gray flannel trousers, a coat of white linen and a gray sports shirt.

Mr. Robert Appleton, glimpsed while strolling down Worth Avenue the other day, furnished competition for the gorgeous sunset just then appearing over the waters of Lake Worth. His coat was in a marvelous shade of cerise, with bright yellow sports shirt, trousers of a deeper shade of red and shoes in bucko brown. His wide coconut straw hat was decorated with a lovely wide band also of cerise.

can always be counted upon for something colorful in resort habiliments.

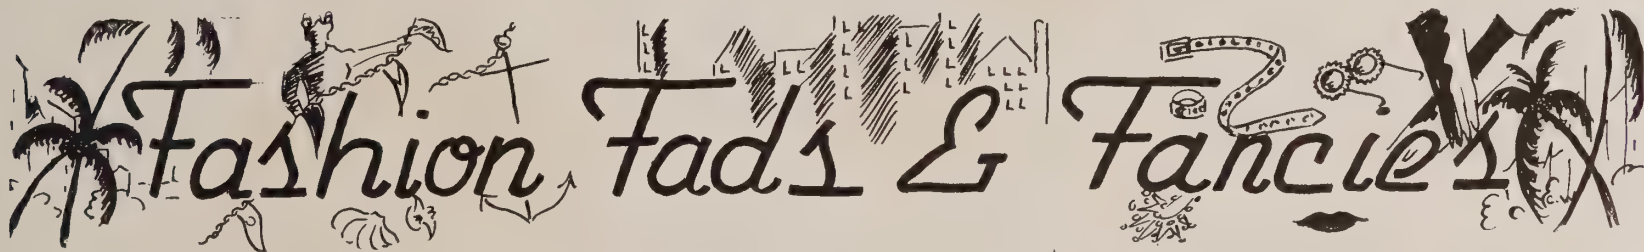

ALL IS not gold that glitters—but all jewelry that glitters is fashion this winter; and a lot of it is gold, combined with precious jewels! No costume for either daytime or evening is quite complete, unless it is accented with jewelry—and the more, the smarter, according to present style dictation.

For formal evening and dinner, necklaces of glistening diamonds, sapphires, emeralds or rubies—made with odd-shaped pendants which may be removed and worn as clips; bibs of precious jewels; or the more conservative choker styling!

Smart ears are clipped—to complement the popular pompadour and other coiffures of the upswept style. These may be of diamonds, or other jewels with diamonds, in exotic shapes and settings—or, huge rings of gold in creole fashion.

Bracelets, a must in the present scheme of jeweled accessories, run the gamut from wide bands of diamonds in various cuttings; large gold links of several colors; gold bands of tremendous width ornamented with removable clips made of clusters of precious jewels; gold handcuffs and bangles! Two bracelets (or even a half dozen or more) are considered better fashion than just one this winter—and many smart Palm Beach socialities are wearing literally a dozen at one time!

Clips and clip-pins to accent dresses, suits, coats or ensembles are getting larger and more dazzling as the season advances. Flower sprays, single blossoms, fruit clusters, exotic bowknots; are among the most popular interpretations.

Platinum or gold studded with precious jewels; gold in two or three colors, sans gems; the answer to chic in the realm of jeweled clips!

Deviating from the usual plan of reserving precious jewels for formal afternoon or evening wear, they now appear with casual clothes of the most informal character. To accent the indispensable pajama, whether for shopping, dining or dancing—glittering jewelry is omnipresent in the resort style picture.

Following this smart idea, Mrs. Rufus Scott was seen shopping on Worth Avenue, wearing a medium blue shark-skin slacks outfit, blue wedgies, and white short-sleeved cardigan—the front trimmed with huge yarn pom pons in bright red and navy. Her jewelry consisted of a large gold pin at the throat of the sports shirt, and wide gold band bracelet with sapphires.

Noted in the Paramount Theatre audience, the opening night of "The Philadelphia Story"—Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., wearing a gay print bouffant-skirted dress of chiffon, with white fitted bodice and bright green sash; topped with a white fox jacket. Mrs. Harrison Williams in a striking black creation, with one of the new dolman-sleeved jackets of turquoise blue taffeta.

Mrs. Diana Guest, in a dashing ensemble of flame red and white; long fitted coat of the red, over a smartly simple all-white gown.

Lunching at Newell Tilton's one day recently, with a group of friends, Mrs. Herbert Sheldon Johnson, looked very attractive, in a deep rose and white print frock and heather-colored cardigan sweater.

Mrs. William Sayad, wore an outstanding outfit at the Everglades Club Tombola-Fashion Show: Mrs. Robert Hasler, in chic hibiscus and white print frock and silver fox spectator sports dress.

Also, among the smartly groomed spectators at the Everglades Club Tombola-Fashion Show: Mrs. Robert Hasler, in chic hibiscus and white print frock and silver fox jacket.

Mrs. McAlpin Bell, wearing a white polka-dotted brown dress and white casual jacket.

Mrs. Ernest H. Rice chose a bright green and white dotted outfit and white swagger felt hat.

For dining at the Beach Club, Mrs. Henry Topping, Jr., chose an unusually chic gown; fashioned of starched white lace for the fitted bodice, and violet and white crepe for the full swirling skirt.

At the Beach Club, the same evening, Miss Grace Amory was a dashing figure, in a nasturtium red chiffon evening gown, topped with an aquamarine blue dinner jacket, lavishly trimmed with gold beads and sequins.

In line with the vogue for precious jewels and casual clothes, Mrs. Peter A. B. Widener was noted at the Hialeah races, wearing a smart spectator sports suit whose lapel glittered with a three inch brooch of blue-white and yellow canary diamonds, and emeralds; four horses' heads peering over a paddock fence.

Elsa Maxwell's "Stump The Experts" party at the Everglades Club, was a veritable fashion show of unusually lovely and strikingly sophisticated gowns:

Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, wife of the former United States Ambassador to the Court of St. James, outstanding in the huge crowd—was gowned in a stark white gown, accented with a jacket of "hammered" silver brocade.

Mrs. LeRay Berdeau wore an attractive creation of black trimmed with pink lace, with plumes in matching pink perched behind her smart pompadour.

Mrs. Herbert Farrell, Jr., chose a stunning pale beige satin gown with big bows of self-material on each shoulder.

Mrs. Aksel C. P. Wichfeld, in an exotic tropical print gown, with numerous diamond bracelets.

THE BEAUTIFUL "PASSY ROOM" of the popular and distinguished Colony Club seems to be a favorite place these evenings for the gathering of society's social clans and celebrities from every part of the world, are to be seen there nightly dancing and dining. The chillsome breezes of the last few weeks have proved no deterrent to the enjoyment of its guests as the "Passy Room," which is large and spacious with an excellent dance floor, has an air-conditioning unit, thus a cozy and comfortable atmosphere prevails at all times regardless of the vagaries of the weather man.

Epicureans and gourmets have discovered that the Colony Club's chef Henri Verge of international renown, is inimitable in the art of French cuisine. Prior to the present war Monsieur Verge's menus were famous at the Hotel Normandy in Deauville, France, and at the Hotel de Paris in the gay resort of Monte Carlo.

Ernie Holst, with his orchestra of irresistible dance music, seems to be better than ever this year and he is still maintaining his reputation as Palm Beach's number one band leader. Also holding first place in his special field of dancing music is Fernando Caney with his native rhumba music, complemented by Capo and Riela, those two fascinating rhumba vocalists and native dancers.

The many friends of Mr. David S. Cowles, well known in the social circles in New York and abroad, will be interested to learn that he has been appointed Secretary of the Palm Beach Colony Club.

Among those entertaining and noticed at the Colony

Noted for its excellent French cuisine and perfectly appointed service, together with its high standard of entertainment, augmented with a superb dance band, under the direction of Jimmy Stipek, it supplies an evening of complete enjoyment. An innovation this season is the new and much enlarged bar, in the capable hands of the well-known North twins.

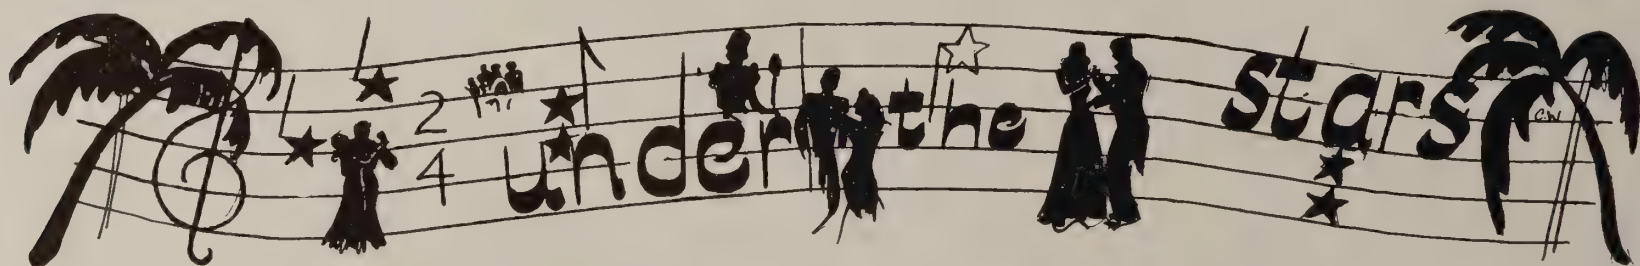

Guests noted dining and dancing there recently were: Mrs. Alfred J. Brosseau with a small party of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Henry K. Harding, Mr. and Mrs. William Demuth, Mr. John Perona, Mrs. Henderson Marks, Mr. Thorne Donnelly, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Feltman, Mrs. Harold B. Narramore, Mrs. Jules Mastbaum entertained for six as did Mr. Jake Webb.

Final preparations are being made for the Blue and White Ball for the Friends of Greece benefit at the world-famous Patio on Friday evening with an Hellenic theme being carried out in decorations, food and entertainment, and with the entire support of the smart winter colony.

Mrs. Harrison Williams, prominent member of the international society set who did much excellent work on the committee of the Friends of Greece Dinner Dance at the Ritz Carlton, December 13, is the chairman of the gala event here.

Lending their names to the worthy cause and assisting Mrs. Harrison Williams, as patrons and patronesses are Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Dillman, Mr. Milton Holden, Mrs. Margaret Emerson, Mr. Herbert Pulitzer, Mr. Charles A. Munn, Mr.

Club recently were: The world famous screen star, Mr. Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Mrs. Fairbanks, the former Mrs. G. Huntington Hartford, who attracted much attention on their arrival with Mr. and Mrs. Byron C. Foy.

Ted Husing, the well known radio commentator of sports, drove in from Miami and was host to Miss Mary Jane Walsh and Miss Betty Lawford, well known on the legitimate stage and having one of the leading roles in the stage play, "The Women."

Others noted and entertaining were: Mrs. Woolworth Donahue who had as her guests Mr. and Mrs. Nicolas Embiricos, Mr. and Mrs. Edward N. Townsend, Jr., and Mr. Thomas Goodwin. Host to Miss Emily Gwyer, Miss Joy Plummer and Mr. Ernest Heater was Mr. David Graham Legget.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward V. Quinn entertained for: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ittleson, Jr., Mrs. Richard Chapman, Mr. Percy Mendelssohn, Mr. Everett Jacobs and Mr. Steven Fuld. Mr. Alfred Gay McCosker, president of the Mutual Broadcasting System, "WOR," and Mrs. McCosker entertained for their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Van Dolen.

The new Dixie Inn located on the North Dixie Highway, and only a five-minute drive from the center of Palm Beach, is again establishing itself this season as a charming and distinctive rendezvous for the smart set. Opening for afternoon cocktails, it continues on through the evening with dinner-dancing and late suppers.

Gurnee Munn, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Sanford, Mrs. Wana-maker Munn, Mr. and Mrs. Nicolas Embiricos, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Loder, Captain Alastair Mackintosh, Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane, Mrs. Wesson Seyburn, Mrs. H. C. Phipps, Mrs. Frederick Guest, Mrs. James P. Donahue, Mr. and Mrs. Myron C. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Huntington, Mr. Harrison Williams, Col. and Mme. Louis Jacques Balsan.

Many fashionable members of resort society attended the Adelaide Moffet gala Friday evening, to fete this charming society singer who terminated a most successful week's engagement at the Patio.

One distinguished group of resorters present, included Mr. Herbert Pulitzer's party which consisted of Miss Grace Amory, noted socialite golfer, Mr. Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., famous movie star and Mrs. Fairbanks, Mr. and Mrs. Byron C. Foy, Capt. R. Amcotts Wilson, Mr. Gurnee Munn, Mr. Lytle Hull and Mrs. Potter Bourne.

Mrs. Ritchey Farrell was observed in a party with Miss Helen Fairfax Farrell, Mr. Jack Kennedy and Miss Kathleen Kennedy, while nearby were Mr. and Mrs. H. Seymour Shonard and Mr. and Mrs. Edward N. Townsend, Jr.

Interesting twosomes noted included, Mr. A. V. Leaman and Mrs. Woolworth Donahue, Mr. Tommy Goodwin and Miss Dorothy Leary, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Sanford, Mr. and Mrs. Ross McCulloch.

Mrs. Joseph F. Moran occupied a dance floor table with Mr. Joseph D. Bannon, Mr. Harry "Doc" Kelton, Mr. and Mrs. J. Arnold and Miss Adelaide Moffett.

Crowded Sports Calendar In Historic Nassau

TURNISHING A RATHER STARTLING contrast to the dreamy old world settings that make Nassau's hinterland a background of beauty and the ideal return to the leisurely graceful life of past decades, is a list of sporting events that are competing with social activities for a place in Nassau's bright sun.

Against a background of gay dinners, cocktail parties, lively beach picnics and sparkling night life, Nassau is enjoying a series of important sporting events, which make this picturesque island a popular rendezvous for headliners from the sporting world as well as the usual assemblage of social registerites.

This month began quite athletically with the arrival of about 100 golfers from the New York Athletic Club. This group of sterling shot-makers engaged in numerous colorful tournaments and climaxed their visit with a banquet and a series of Scotch foursomes.

Not the least of the sport thrills was the Bahamas Amateur Golf Championship, which began on February 4th at the Bahamas Country Club. An influx of Florida visitors added to the gaiety of All-Florida Outdoor Swimming Championship meet at the Shoreham Pool, with several records broken.

Water skiing continues to occupy the spotlight at beautiful Emerald Beach, with such distinguished adepts as the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, Sir Harry Oakes, Mr. Frederick Sigrist, Mr. James Bush, Mr. John F. McCarthy, Mr. K. L. Ames, Mrs. Mary Lansing Arno, Mr. Anthony J. Drexel and others skimming over the surface of beautiful Nassau harbor, with its translucent waters and constantly changing colors.

One of the most interesting of the many parties held at beautiful Emerald Beach since the inception of the season was the first Friday night dinner-dance at the exclusive Emerald Beach Club. The party was held as a benefit, the proceeds to go to the King George Fund for Sailors His Royal Highness, the Duke of Windsor and his popular Duchess were the honor guests at this interesting social function.

Among the many interesting members of the social colony who entertained were Sir Frederick and Lady Jane Williams Taylor, Mr. John F. McCarthy, Mr. Frederick Sigrist, Mr. K. L. Ames, Sir Harry and Lady Oakes, Mrs. Lansing Arno, Mr. Anthony J. Drexel, Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Dresser, Mr. Arthur V. Davis, the Hon. and Mrs. Oscar Daly, Mr. Powell Crosley, the Hon. Robert and Mrs. Curry, Captain and Mrs. Vyvyan D. Drury, Mrs. Martin Egan, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Fabian, Mr. and Mrs. Haliburton Fales, Miss Brenda Diana Duff Frazier, Mr. and Mrs. Philip G. Gossler, Sir Herbert Hold, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. G. Holt, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hemphill and many others.

The pressure of administrative duties have been keeping the Duke and Duchess from taking a very active part in social activities, but they are usually present at any affair which is for war funds, the Red Cross or similar assistance to the Empire.

Sir Frederick Williams Taylor, one of the founders of lovely Emerald Beach Club, proposed the health of His Royal Highness in a gracious little speech and the Governor responded with one of the earnest, heart-warming acknowledgements for which he has always been noted.

Nassau's famous Jungle, with Mr. Newell Kelly as the guiding light, continues to present a series of interesting social events for its smart list of habitués. The big social event of the month of course will be the Head-Dress Ball, staged by Nassau's leading social luminaries at the Jungle, for the benefit of the Bahamas Humane Society, and under the patronage of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor.

An unforgettable thrill to the newly arrived visitor in Nassau is the famous "Hurdle Dance" held at the Jungle each week and popularized by America's leading glamour girl, Miss Brenda Diana Duff Frazier several years ago at this famous gathering spot.

The spectacle of dignified dowagers and their elderly escorts joining in with the youngsters in this colorful dance is an event in a lifetime. The climax of the dance finds young and old alike attempting to wriggle under a horizontal bar placed a few inches from the dance floor.

Tuesday in Nassau has become a sort of extra-special holiday in Nassau, with two luxury liners in the harbor on this day. Bay Street is a colorful kaleidoscope, with its native vendors carrying their complete stock of island ware on display in the streets for the incoming tourists. To many, this is the most interesting of the many interesting settings in Nassau, the hundreds of stands filled with every imaginable sort of necklace, hat, sandals and other hand-woven articles, purveyed by the loquacious out-islanders.

Another sight that remains indelibly imprinted on the visitor to Nassau is the majesty of an incoming out-island sloop, with its time blackened hull and tattered sails standing before the wind, with nary a sail unfurled despite the strength of the wind. These dusky sponge fishermen and traders are numbered among the world's finest sailors. Not the least of their picturesque qualities is found in their deck cargo, which generally numbers a family goat, possibly a cow and always a collection of various animals and chickens. The out-islander carries his entire household possessions with him on his picturesque sloop.

The annual Miami-Nassau Ocean Race, has a pronounced social background this year. Internationally famous yacht competition provides the inspiration for a round of dinners and parties with the dinner at the Nassau Yacht Club, witnessing the presentation of trophies to the winners, by his Royal Highness as the highlight of this event.

A good many exciting affairs crowd February's calendar. The exhibition golf match between Bobby Jones, Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen and Tommy Armour; for the Red Cross in early March is outstanding. Among other headliners who will be in Nassau this month are William Tilden II, Donald Budge, Alice Marble and Mary Hardwick, Britain's tennis queen, who play in a match for the benefit of the Bahamas Red Cross.

Nassau's turquoise harbor is a busy place these days, what with the S. S. Berkshire arriving from Miami three times a week; the S. S. Evangeline coming in from New York every Tuesday, the S. S. Munargo bringing in more visitors every other week; a plane from Montreal once a week, and at least one Pan American Clipper ship flying over from Miami every day, in addition to the regular transportation services from the mainland.

Among The Palms

THE ADVANCE GUARD of the much feted Artists and Writers, those popular champions of the brush and pen who open their golf championship here next week, is already appearing at the Palm Beach Biltmore and some forty or fifty members are scheduled for arrival Friday and Saturday.

Officially known as the Artists' and Writers' Golf Association the group, comprising men of all branches of the creative arts is making its 15th annual trek to Florida, bent on golf, good fun and high entertainment. Resident cottagers have long since completed guests lists for dinners, cocktail parties, etc., in their honor, and many of the clubs and restaurants have arranged special gala nights to coincide with their visit. Aside from all this will be their own extensive program of events and entertainment that will occupy most of their time.

The list of members in the Artists' and Writers' Golf Association is limited to 150 and in it may be found the names of most of the prominent men in each branch of the creative arts including, artists, writers, musicians, actors, cartoonists, etc. Officers of the club are Grantland Rice, president; Rube Goldberg, vice-president; C. D. Williams, secretary, and Arthur William Brown, illustrator, treasurer. John Golden of the motion picture industry is chairman of the Executive Committee, and serving with him are Rex Beach, Sumner Blossom, Arthur William Brown, Innis Brown, Raymond Brown, Gene Buck, William L. Chenery, Frank Crowinshield, Billy DeBeck, Philip Dunning, James Montgomery Flagg, Rube Goldberg, Roy Howard, Charles A. Hughes, Clarence B. Kelland, Messmore Kendall, John LaGatta, Albert Lefcourte, Willard Mullin, Ray McCarthy, L. L. McElroy, Floyd Parsons, Frederick C. Painton, Grantland Rice, Richard L. Simon, Walter Trumbull, LeRoy P. Ward, H. T. Webster, C. D. Williams.

The season is reaching its peak here this fortnight and Biltmore guests are taking an active interest in the various social and sports events which fill the February calendar. Highly popular innovation at the Biltmore this season is the series of "English Buffet Suppers" held each Sunday night from seven to eight in the lovely Crystal Dining Room. The menus featuring traditional British dishes are compiled by the chefs who served with Messrs. Leo A. Tworoger and John L. Stanley, Biltmore Managers, during their many years as heads of the internationally famous Princess Hotel in Bermuda. Following the buffet each Sunday is a concert presented in the Terrace Lounge by Paul Sparr and his orchestra.

Among those passing the winter at the Biltmore are the former Mayor of Boston and Mrs. John Francis Fitzgerald, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Dyer, Mr. and Mrs. Howard N. Ragland, and Howard N. Ragland, Jr., of Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Martin, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Worthington, Washington; Mr. and Mrs. J. I. H. Herbert, Mr. and Mrs. Mark A. Haas, Mr. and Mrs. William Hernstadt, Mrs. Wooster Reed Warner and daughter, Miss Helen Warner, Arthur Galston and Henry Berthier, New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Sayre M. Ramsdell of Philadelphia, are occupying the Royal Suite at the Biltmore and have in their party Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Kennally, Mr. and Mrs. John Ballantyne, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd A. Good, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Heinritz, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Matthews of Philadelphia.

An atmosphere of mid-season gaiety is evidenced at sumptuous Whitehall which is the scene of daily entertaining, both formal and informal. Hundreds throng to the ever-popular Cocktail Hour in the enchanting Jardin Royal and, al fresco dinner parties, Tuesday and Friday bridge-lunches, and Wednesday night duplicate and the spectacular series of Saturday galas, all are in the parade of fashion, fun and frolic.

Next Saturday evening, (Feb. 15), the most bizarre of the entertainments will be the 'Bal des Blackamoor' highlighted by a gorgeous fashion presentation of all-white evening gowns relieved by jet. Special all-white decorations with great silver cloth drapes in the archways will provide the background. The importation from the Far East of West Palm Beach by way of Finchley's Bar of the little Blackamoors—Abdullah, Yasmin, Delhi and Ali, will contribute an amusing note to the evening's proceedings. With deep salaams, they will distribute souvenir bottles of Corday's newest perfume sensation 'Jet' to each lady.

By far the most elegant gala of the season will be 'Le Pavillon de Paganinni,' a fete galante, to be held in the Jardin Royal on Saturday evening, Feb. 22. Antique Louis XIV decorations in a decor of rose, silver and white will provide a gorgeous background for a suggestion of the romantic story of Franz Lehars' immortal music from 'Paganinni.'

Niki Raymond will begin the evening's performance with a violin solo, "L'Amour Toi Seul Sur la Terre," the aria from the operetta. He will wear a treasured antique said to be the decoration conferred upon Paganinni by the King of Italy. Raymond has practiced this solo for several weeks and will play it publicly for the first time at this gala.

Sara Ann McCabe, featured singer with Guy Lombardo, who begins a two weeks' engagement at Whitehall on that evening, will sing the thrilling melody and The D'Ivons, dancers incomparable, will do an interpretive waltz to it. The melody, in the rhythm of a Viennese waltz will be woven into the program throughout the performance.

An all-gypsy gala, "Chez les Tzigane," will be presented Saturday evening, March 1, the Jardin Royal simulating a court scene with royalty being entertained by the Tzigane gypsies. Red velvet banquettes will surround the ring-side, with the waiters wearing scarlet coats and Hussar caps in gold and cerise. A life-sized violin in scarlet satin edged in gold will hold bouquets of yellow roses. The archways will be draped with great arras of green, blue and scarlet. Hundreds of vari-colored lanterns will illuminate the dance floor and palms. Individual bottles of Corday's "Tzigane" perfume will mark each lady's place. Strolling romanies will serenade the guests and an all-gypsy program of songs and dances will entrance the diners.

Visitors are arriving daily by train, motor, yacht and plane for a mid-winter holiday at Whitehall. Among the socially-prominent guests are Mrs. Henry A. Gorman and Lady Decies of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gray of New York, Mrs. D. E. Macauley of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Jacques Gerard of Englewood, N. J. and Paris, Dr. and Mrs. Charles E. Donovan of Swampscott, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bennett of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Von Elm of Forest Hills, L. I., Countess Floricel Constantinesco of New York, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Tracy of Springfield, Ill.

Pictured above is a view of the living room, which features two murals done on mirrored glass. Below these are cabinets of bleached mahogany, with mirror lined niches. The rug is of modern texture in pale lime; the draperies, oyster white, striped in lime fringe; chairs on either side of the doors leading to the loggia, are upholstered in a white satin and wool striped fabric. The love seat is in oyster white chenille silk and the lucite bridge table and chairs bring out the sparkling features of the room.

Another view of the living room shows the window that faces the Lake. The quarter sectional sofas are upholstered in a nubby chevron design, in peppermint-stick red and white. (This is a striking and attractive contrast to the pale lime and oyster white of the other furniture.) The two low chairs in white, are piped in red. The round glass table has chrome legs. The curtain is of spun glass.

In the entrance hall, the walls and ceiling are papered in a beige colored Chinese grass cloth, applied in diamond shaped pattern; cornice is a carved rope design. The oyster white rug is bordered with a thick wool fringe and the small seat, on a lucite base, is upholstered in an all-fringed fabric of honey beige. Before the glass brick window, a china monkey suns himself on a bleached wood stand with white plaster base.

"Out of Bounds"

ERN HOUSE IN A TROPICAL SETTING

One of the very latest modern houses in Palm Beach, is that of Mr. and Mrs. D. Buhl of Grosse Pointe, Michigan. The house, which was designed by Horace W. Worrell and decorated by Worrell, is on Island Road and Bay, an arm of Lake Worth. Small and compact, it embodies the best of both modern and tropical design and decor.

Large windows framing lovely views of the Lake, wide green lawns and golf course; and the expert use of glass brick, allowing light into every room, the house is a perfect example of the adaptation of modern architecture to tropical climes. Throughout the house, Worrell maintained the feeling of modern decor, by using bleached woods, rattan fabrics, with mirrored glass and lucite accessories.

At the far end of the leggio is a small bar. Its walls are murals done on canvas to give a jungle effect, there are baby pandas, monkeys and lion cubs peering out from behind bars of bamboo. The indirectly lighted ceiling is built to represent the top of a cage. The bar itself is in a pickled wood finish with bamboo trim and glass shelves and the stools are covered in red leather.

In the dining room, a bleached mahogany table with plume motif, has a mirrored top which reflects the soft yellow ceiling and French blue wall paper, scattered with white palm fronds. The rug is the same shade of blue as the background of the wall paper, while the upholstered chairs repeat the color scheme in the yellow of the ceiling. A buffet in bleached mahogany has indirectly lighted mirrored shelves.

The guest room in the photograph below, is a perfect example of the modern tropical feeling that Worrell has achieved in the decor. The white rug, in combination of wool and rayon, gives a 'wind blown' effect and the light beige walls, with their natural bamboo cornice, are a perfect background for the figured bamboo shaperies, with mirrored valances. Glass curtains are of a coarse woven rattan, in the same pale beige of the walls. The built-in dressing table and chest of drawers are in pickled pine with bamboo trim and a desk is cleverly incorporated into one of the chests. Chair and ottoman are covered in a yellow fabric and on the bamboo twin beds are light beige spreads, piped in a lush green fringe.

The Palm Beach Sports Scene

SPORTS ACTIVITY hit its high point last week and this, with tennis devotees watching nationally known men and women netters in the Annual South Florida Tennis Championships at West Palm Beach and golfing enthusiasts following the nation's finest women golfers in the Annual Women's Championship of Palm Beach over the Palm Beach Golf Club course.

Feature sporting event of this week centers around the Fifth Annual Invitational Mixed foursomes golf tournament being held at the famed Everglades Club with such nationally known golf luminaries as Dick Chapman, national amateur champion entered with Mrs. T. C. Schaeffer, and Miss Betty Hicks, golfing sensation of the Florida feminine tourney play entered with H. L. Willoughby, 3rd, the latter co-winner of the event last year, teamed with Miss Clara Callender of Long Beach, Calif.

Willoughby and Miss Callender defeated Miss Grace Amory, Palm Beach linkster and Robert Sweeny, former British amateur champion on the 19th hole of a thrilling finals match.

Others entered in this golfing feature of the winter tournament play include: Mr. and Mrs. Briggs S. Cunningham, Miss Jane Crum and Paul Cushman, Mr. and Mrs. Page Hufty, Miss Betty Hicks, and H. L. Willoughby, 3rd, Mrs. T. C. Schaeffer and Dick Chapman, Miss Dorothy Gardner, and Henry J. Topping, Jr., Miss Catherine Fox and Jack Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Murray, Mrs. Enid Kirk and William B. Langford, Mrs. A. Sothoron and Paul Cushman, Miss Jane Cothran and John Cushman, Mrs. Edwin Shay and Col. W.

H. Carpenter, Mrs. A. C. Critchley and Howell Van Gerbig, Miss Grace Amory and T. Dennie Boardman, Mrs. H. A. Mack and Allan K. Wylie, Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Morgan and many more.

Occupying the golf spotlight for next month will be the Fifth Annual Invitation Amateur-Professional golf tournament to be held at the famous Seminole Golf Club on March 6.

In this annual event, the cream of the professional golfing world, teams with leading socialite amateurs, in 18-hole medal play best ball competition with the amateurs under handicap and the professionals from scratch.

Two teams tied for low net honors last year with Dick Metz of Chicago and Robert Ogden Bacon, Jr., of New York matching scores with Jimmy Demaret of Houston, Tex., and Oscar Johnson of Chicago, each team making a best ball of 64 for the 18-hole round.

"Slammin" Sammy Snead who will also be on deck this year hung up a new course record when he fired a 33-34—67, five under club par for the round, one under Byron Nelson's 68 of the previous year.

Other professional golfing stars who expect to compete include, Lawson Little, U. S. Open Champion, 1940, Byron Nelson, U. S. Open Champion, 1939, P. G. A. Champion, 1940, and Henry Picard, P. G. A. Champion, 1939.

Others listed which include every name golfer of any consequence are:

Tommy Armour, Johnny Bulla, Billy Burke, Bobby Cruikshanks, Harry Cooper, Wiffy Cox, Leonard Dodson, Jimmy Demaret, Ralph Guldahl, Vic Ghezzi, Willie Goggin, Walter Hagen, Jimmy Hines, Ben Loring, Red Francis, Chandler Hooper, Ben Hogan, Dutch Harrison, Clayton Heafner, Willie Klein, Ky Laffoon, Jug Macspaden, Tony Manero, Lloyd Mangrum, Dick Metz, Tony Penna, Phil Perkins, Ed Oliver, Paul Runyon, John Revolta, Sam Snead, Gene Sarazen, Marvin Stahl, George Smith, Horton Smith, Denny Shute, Felix Serafin, Jimmy Thompson, Mike Turnesa, Frank Walsh, Craig Wood, Claude Harmon.

Blustery breezes and a rain shower kept diminutive Betty Hicks, the Pasadena, Calif., golfing sensation, from duplicating her Miami performance in the qualifying round of the Women's championship of Palm Beach but failed to keep her from posting the medal score of 76 for the 18-hole trek, four strokes over women's par for the course. She made a 39 on the out-round and a 37 on the back-nine, over the Palm Beach Golf Club course.

The long-driving, black-haired youngster who is here in an attempt to win the local title for the second consecutive year continued to hold her distance on her tee shots but had some trouble on her approaches which cut down her scoring record.

Miss Dorothy Gardner, blond, likeable, former Medal champion from Steubenville, Ohio, chalked up a 77 to take runner-up honors, posting a 39 for the first nine but going one over Miss Hicks' score on the back-nine.

Miss Grace Amory, popular Palm Beach society golfer and finalist in last year's event with Miss Hicks, played a steady round to card a brace of 40's while Miss Jane Crum, Orangeburg, S. C., and Miss Jean Bauer of Providence, both made 82's.

Miss Jane Cothran, Greenville, S. C., linkster and finalist in the women's nationals this summer who posted a 77 the other day in a practice round over the local course, fell by the wayside yesterday to chalk up an 89 which relegated her to the second flight, amazing those who considered her a threat in the tourney.

Summary qualifying round: Elizabeth Hicks, Pasadena, Calif., 39-37—76; Dorothy Gardner, Steubenville, Ohio, 39-38—77; Grace Amory, Palm Beach, 40-40—80; Jane Crum, Orangeburg, S. C., 41-41—82; Joan Bauer, Providence, R. I., 41-41—82; Mrs. William Hockenjos, Jr., Lake Hopatcong,

Ormond Beach

AN UNUSUALLY FULL and varied program of activities has been the lot of visitors to Ormond Beach this season, with most of it centering at the Hotel Ormond and the Ormond Beach Golf Club. The middle of the month finds the social calendar crowded with events—golf matches, a tennis championship, on the fine clay courts of the hotel; all-day horseback rides and beach picnics for the younger set. Game parties have been held twice a week in the evening for the diversion of hotel guests. These parties so far this season, have drawn a large number each night to the lounge; dinner dances in the Colonial dining room; afternoon teas and Sunday evening concerts of classical music in the lobby.

The regular Saturday dinner dances and champagne contests at the hotel are increasing in popularity; not that they ever lacked prominence since their first appearance here two seasons ago, as from its very start the Cocktail Lounge has played an important part in the social life at this resort. This season the Arthur Murray dance team of Teresa Alvarez and Robert Haines are proving an added attraction with their nightly exhibitions of the latest steps and the special features on Saturdays. Preceding the Wednesday dinner dances, a Lucky Number and Treasure Hunt takes place in the Lounge with Robert Haines acting as master of ceremonies.

Valentine's Day will find Ormond Beach's smart set attending the special party in the Lounge, followed by the dinner dance, which will be one of the first large social functions of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Scott Fowler, of Oak Lane, Philadelphia, are back this season at the Ormond for another lengthy stay. They are planning to motor to Palm Beach in the near future to spend a week at The Breakers visiting their many friends who are wintering there.

Mrs. Charles Garth, general chairman of the benefit to be given by the Ormond Beach branch of Bundles for Britain at the Hotel Ormond on March 1, has announced the directors for the production of living portraits of famous Britons, who will work in teams, with each responsible for a group of five pictures. The directors include Mrs. Philip E. Mock, Mrs. Oakes Ames, Mrs. W. A. Chenoweth, Mrs. John Parkinson, Mrs. Chas. W. Newhall, Mrs. Chas. B. Prettyman, Mrs. Don Emery and Mrs. Henry Staton. Mrs. Sidney G. Main is chairman of the committee in charge of the ticket sale and will be assisted by Mrs. Victor N. Camp, Mrs. Harold Butts, Mrs. E. B. Pettigrew, Miss Jessie M. Stevens and Miss Grace Thomas.

The three-day selective 18-hole round tournament held at the Ormond Beach Golf Club January 27, 28 and 29 was won by Dr. C. S. Bouton, of Bronxville, N. Y., with a score of 81, less a handicap of 11, for a net 70. Mrs. Oakes Ames, of Boston, Mass., carried off honors in the ladies' event with a 94, less 18, for a 76.

Ralph C. Hird, Jr., and his brother, Douglas, have returned to Lehigh University after spending several days between semesters with their mother, Mrs. Ralph C. Hird, of Englewood, N. J., who is at her new ocean-front cottage for the season. The boys made the trip here in Ralph's own airplane which he pilots himself.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Pratt, of Englewood, N. J., are in Ormond Beach for the winter months. They were accompanied South by their daughters, Mrs. G. W. Tully, of New York, and Mrs. D. N. Fisher, of Greenwich, Conn.

Mrs. James Thornton, of New York, the former Sally Hawks, has joined her parents the Samuel Hawks at their winter home here. Mrs. Thornton, a former local regent, arrived in time to attend the meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution, which will hold the annual State convention in Daytona on March 3.

Mrs. Katherine Tift Jones, of Winter Park, Fla., was guest speaker at the January 30th dinner meeting of the Ormond Beach Club which was held at Villa Sans Souci. Mrs. Jones told Southern folklore tales, several of which she includes in the story series she presents at Columbia University each winter. She has made many appearances on various radio programs over nation-wide hook-ups and has recorded two of her stories for the folklore library at Harvard University.

The first celebration of a natal day this season was the dinner party the Arthur A. Jones gave at their estate on the Ocean Shore Boulevard on the tenth anniversary of their daughter Audrey's birthday, January 29. The future debutantes of Ormond Beach's smart colony were dined and ate birthday cake after which they enjoyed a showing of talking pictures. The youngsters attending were Patty King, Cynthia Hardy, Geraldine Gardiner, Kathryn Arnstad, Anne Cannon Reynolds, Mary Williams, Joan Burke, Dottie Lou Henson, Carolyn Delaney and Audrey's sister, Shirley.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bartlett, Jr., of New York, were visitors the latter part of January at the Ormond. Others were Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Schwefel and two children, of New York; Henry Whitehouse and daughter, Louise, of Mt. Kisco, N. Y.; who were enroute to Palm Beach for the season; and Mr. and Mrs. William MacKenzie Kalt, of New York.

A three-day 18-hole selective score competition is scheduled for the Ormond Beach links, starting on Monday and continuing through Wednesday. There will be prizes for both men and women.

Mrs. L. M. Keeler, of Whitinsville, Mass., has opened her cottage on the John Anderson Highway and her son, Lawrence, is with her, and Miss Anne Palmer, of Baltimore, Md., is expected to visit them.

Mrs. Ralph C. Hird, of Englewood, N. J., is occupying her new cottage on the dunes. Her two sons, Ralph Junior and Douglas, are here from Lehigh University for the week-end. Ralph came down in his private plane and made a dandling on the beach in front of their house.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Adriance, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., have purchased the McConnell residence on South Atlantic Avenue and are established in their new home for the season. With them are their two small daughters, Rene and Joanne.

Recent arrivals at the Hotel Ormond include Mr. and Mrs. Andrew P. McKean, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. J. Scott Fowler, of Philadelphia, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. James Gleason, of Shaker Heights, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Shore, of Bryn Mawr, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Francis G. Smiley, of Lake Mohonk, N. Y.; Mrs. John G. Owen, of Eau Claire, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. John Schoenewolf, of Baltimore, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lovely, of Springfield, Vt., and Mr. Joseph I. Young, of East Orange, N. J.

MME. HELENA RUBINSTEIN

World-famous cosmetician and beauty specialist; a living example of her own precepts and philosophy of beauty culture! Mme. Rubinstein has recently opened a beauty salon in Palm Beach, thus giving the Colony the advantage of her new and unusual ideas on skin care, make-up, beach preparations, special treatments—everything to aid and abet beauty.

The interesting windows of the Helena Rubinstein Salon—one depicts an intriguing beach scene, the other dramatizes the new Gala Performance perfume! For the beach window, there is a painted background (Florida sky and white fleecy clouds) and real sand from the beach—suntan lotions, creams, the famous aquacade make-up, liquid sunshine, Stilson beach jewelry. A ballet scene is the lovely theme for the other window—backdrop of glistening white, ballerinas, and the exquisite Gala Performance perfume in bottles of varying size. Pink pineapple silk curtains both windows.

The lovely new Helena Rubinstein Salon on Worth Avenue! Effectively decorated in dusty pink and poudre blue. The walls are of the subtle pink; also, the glass-top tables and display shelves. Huge, easy chairs of poudre blue, with stitched plaid design in white; the carpet of soft tread, is a neutral beige tone. Modern paintings by famous artists (from Mme. Rubinstein's own collection), decorate the walls and furnish interesting color contrast. The make-up bar is a delightful innovation—here, you may have a complimentary make-up before selecting your cosmetics!

Miami Beach

EVENTS are moving at a smart clip these days at the Roney Plaza, with the February influx of visitors well on the way. Among the recent visitors was John F. Curry of New York and his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund McCarthy, Sr. With the McCarthys were their two children, the pride and joy of their grandfather, Veronica and Edmund, Jr.

Mrs. Henry L. Doherty also has arrived in Coral Gables and is occupying her suite in the Giralda tower of the Miami Biltmore. Mrs. Doherty brought with her two house guests from New York, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Forbes. The Forbes were guests of honor at a dinner party given in the Viennese room of the Roney Plaza. Among the other guests were Marquis George MacDonald and Percy Pyne, 2nd.

The tea dances in the palm gardens continue with much popularity. Among those who entertained recently were Dr. James E. West and Mrs. West for their daughter, Helen; Mr. and Mrs. Victor Beinfeld for their daughter, Miss Babatte; Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Van Dolen, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred McCosker, Miss Behna Marks, Miss Matte Berardo, Cyril Lawrence, Mrs. Violet Wanamaker Cruger, W. W. Potter, J. P. Smith, W. R. Winter and Mr. and Mrs. Harrison James.

The opening performance of Georges and Jalna in the Viennese room was the occasion for many dinner parties. Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Hatrick entertained. Mr. and Mrs. George Read, who are passing the season at the Nautilus, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Louis W. Maul of New York City. Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Stampleman of 4747 N. Bay Road, gave a large dinner party.

With the season swinging into high tempo, partying is the order of the day . . . and the night, at the Pancoast in Miami Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Bromley of Philadelphia were dinner hosts this week in the Mediterranean Room of this hotel, when they entertained for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dun Patterson and her sister, Mrs. Ella Lowe Gunckel and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dart, all of Dayton, and Mr. and Mrs. P. A. B. Widener of Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Moore of New York and Circle M. Ranch in Wyoming, and Mr. G. T. Hunter of Chattanooga.

Mrs. M. A. Mead and daughter, Mrs. H. C. Schwable of Scarsdale entertained the other day at the Pancoast Cabana Club with a beach party and luncheon in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Raymond, also of Scarsdale, who are house guests in the Mead winter cottage in Cocoanut Grove, Miami.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bell Watkins of Berryville, Va., gave a beach party at the Pancoast this week. In the group were their daughter, Miss Virginia Watkins, and Mrs. Watkins' sister, Mrs. Karl Boy-ed and her daughter, Miss Virginia Boy-ed, also of Berryville. They are winter colonists in this resort.

The Reverend Frederick Biddle Halsey and Mrs. Halsey of Philadelphia were luncheon guests of Mrs. Caspar Wistar Hacker of Bryn Mawr in her cabana at the Pancoast.

Glimpsed in their cabana at the Pancoast the other day were Mr. and Mrs. J. Mearl Sweitzer of Wausau, Wis., who are relaxing at this hotel, prior to a stay in Palm Beach.

Palm Beach visitors at the Pancoast hotel for the past several days this week are Mr. and Mrs. James J. Liddy, their daughter, little Miss Margaret Mary, and Mrs. Liddy's sister, Mrs. Mary O'Connor and daughter, Miss Florence O'Connor, all of Forest Hills, N. Y., who are wintering in the Liddy cottage in Cocoanut Row in Palm Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Orbison of West Port, Conn., are holidaying at the Pancoast prior to departure for the Bahamas, where they will pass a few weeks in their cottage in Nassau. Later they will return to the Pancoast.

Awaiting the arrival of her husband, Mr. Lester Napier Stockard from Puerto Rico, Mrs. Stockard and daughter, Miss Mary L. Stockard of New York are guests at the Pancoast.

Faith Baldwin, author, of New Canaan, Conn., is a guest at the Pancoast for an extended stay. She recently completed her magazine article on Reno, where she spent some time last fall collecting material for this series. Miss Baldwin summered at the Forest Hills hotel in Franconia, N. H.

"The most beautiful water I have ever seen is in the Straits of Magellan, with glistening overhanging glaciers on the nearby mountain cliffs, and the Straits bejeweled by a reflection of the Southern Cross from the blue domed sky," said Miss Eva Yates, author, who, though somewhat delocalized by world circling, claims San Francisco as her home. While luxuriating and dreaming the other day on the beach at the Pancoast, Miss Yates said that she is so favorably impressed by the climate and tempo of Miami Beach, that she is seriously thinking of making her permanent home in this resort. She has been around the world twice, lived in Shanghai, Bali, South America, Alaska and other parts of the Globe. Next month her latest book, titled "Astonishing Alaska," will be published.

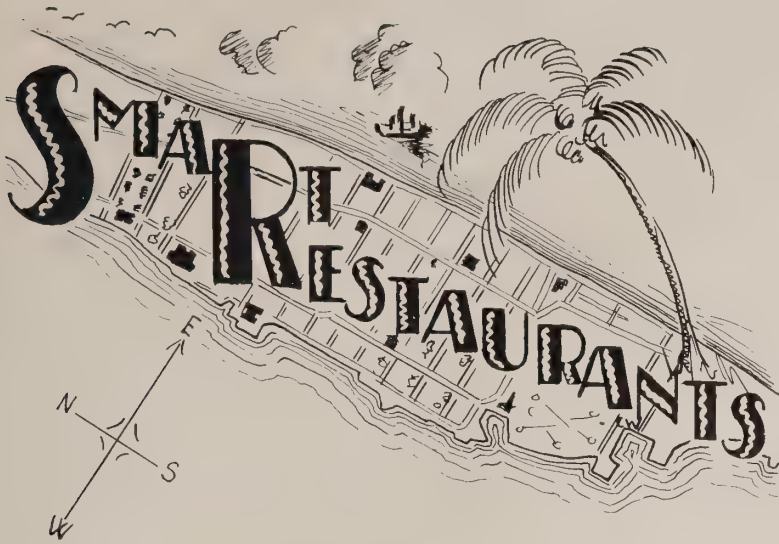

Colonel and Mrs. Charles Speaks were dinner hosts for Dr. James E. West, chief Scout executive of the United States, Mrs. West and their daughter, Miss Helen West of New Rochelle. Mrs. West is the Colonel's sister.

Mrs. Sydney R. Bliss of Scranton is here with her daughter, Miss Eleanir Bliss, student in the Sarah Lawrence College in Bronxville. They are daily sun baskers on the Pancoast beach. This is their second visit to this hotel.

Mr. Edward F. Beale of Philadelphia and his niece, Miss Maria B. Fletcher, who have wintered several seasons in Daytona Beach, are resorting at the Pancoast.

Little Sally Ann Brownell and her "baby doll" are the center of attraction at the Pancoast hotel in Miami Beach, where she is with her mother, Mrs. John R. Brownell and aunt, Miss Jean Barringer of Dayton. Mrs. Brownell's mother, Mrs. Jacklin Barringer of Dayton is expected to join her family here soon.

With service in the Marines looming in the not too distant future, Mr. Frederick T. Finucane, senior in Williams College, is having his last annual rendezvous for a while with his Dad, Mr. Bernard E. Finucane, of Rochester, N. Y., at the Pancoast hotel. Here they have met for several years to have this vacation together between semesters in Williams. At Easter time, the whole family plan as usual for their annual spring holiday at this resort.

HERE is always something doing at the Chambord, the resort's noted French restaurant, where from luncheon time until the wee hours of the night resorters entertain gay groups at cocktails, luncheon parties, and formal dinners. The Sunny Sidewalk Terrace is always the scene of many intimate luncheon parties while during the cocktail hour the atmosphere of the charming lounge attracts scores of winter colonists . . . some drop casually in after a day of busy social activity to enjoy a soothing aperitif and perhaps a game of backgammon. The music of Ramon Littee's ensemble adds to the harmony of the surroundings . . . and there is scarce need to mention the famous cuisine of rare delicacies prepared by the Chambord's skillful staff in true French provincial fashion.

Luncheon parties have been extremely popular during the last few weeks at the Chambord.

Mrs. Chichester DuPont was hostess at a party recently for Mrs. Samuel Crozier, Mrs. Ruxton Hare, Mrs. Eugene DuPont, Mrs. John A. Chapman, and Mrs. Clement R. Wainwright.

Mr. and Mrs. Worthington Hine were a luncheon two-some as were Mr. and Mrs. Byron J. Lapham. In another group were Miss Catherine Edden, Mrs. Edith L. Watson, and Mr. Franklin C. Safford.

Miss Kathleen Kennedy, daughter of Ambassador and Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, lunched at the Chambord last week with Mrs. Raymond Guest. They were joined by Mrs. J. Kearsley Mitchell and Miss Susan B. Stewart.

Mr. Blythe Branch entertained at a luncheon for Col. and Mrs. James R. Branch, Mrs. Edward M. Bowie, of Richmond, Miss Marietta Atwood, Miss Emily Lyman, and Miss E. James.

Mrs. James R. Branch was hostess at a luncheon party at the Chambord yesterday to honor Madame Marie Faure, who has just arrived in this country from France. Other guests included Mrs. June Holbrook, the Misses Marietta Atwood and Emily Lyman, Miss E. James, and Mr. Blythe Branch.

Mrs. Chester H. Morris was hostess at a luncheon at the Chambord. Her guests included Mrs. Joseph C. Belden, Miss Joanna Fortune, Countess de Gennes, Miss Peggy Corbin, Miss Allen, and Miss Jane Morris.

Dinner parties continue to hold their share of the Chambord's popularity.

At one of the largest gatherings of the season at dinner Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Thurber entertained at the Chambord for Mr. and Mrs. Roger W. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. William Adams Littell, and Mr. Frank W. Gay.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Heermann were hosts at a dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Kolb, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Warner, and Mrs. William Fetter. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Caples, who drove from Sarasota, had a party of four.

On South Ocean Boulevard is the delightful new South Ocean Club which officially opened this season in January.

Nothing has been overlooked in designing this charming new building. It is the culmination of all modern ideas in club construction, and the sponsors have studied plans for clubhouses here, there and all places so as to produce a finished product which will primarily give complete comfort and entertainment to members and guests.

A dinner party was given recently by Mr. and Mrs. Byron Chandler, whose guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Chapin, Mrs. John T. Gibbs, Mrs. Edwin Goodman, Mr. Raymond Bill, Mr. Chauncey Williams, Mr. Theodore Marvin and Mr. Martin Griffith.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Graf were hosts to Prince Mikhail Goundoroff, Mr. and Mrs. John O'Day, and Mrs. Edward Roddy, Jr.

Guests of Mrs. Arthur Hudson Marks were Mr. and Mrs. J. Maurice Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Johnston Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. William Watt, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John L. Volk, Mrs. Bennett Chapple, Mr. and Mrs. R. Royce Kent, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Jessup, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Waters and Mr. Wilbur F. Stutz.

Entertaining a group of their house guests were Mr. and Mrs. Noel Marshall Seeburg. In Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Salisbury's party were Mr. and Mrs. C. Henry Buhl and Mr. and Mrs. George S. Fenton.

With Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Stout were Mrs. Albert Kirberger, Mr. and Mrs. A. Shallenbrager, Mrs. John E. Blair and Miss Mildred Blair.

The Vienna celebrated in gay waltzes, the Vienna noted for its fine wine and food, and conviviality, is experiencing a revival right here in Palm Beach. The emblem over the entrance to a charming patio in the Worth Avenue Arcade marks the entrance to a bit of the Old World. It is known as Mayerling. The name itself connotes the authenticity of this unique Viennese restaurant.

Members of the international set who find their itinerary curtailed this season will especially enjoy dining at Mayerling. The gulashes served there, with, perhaps, a sip of spritzer, are the delight of gourmets. And when the meal is preceded by their famous champagne sours, it is indeed a memorable adventure in the fine art of dining.

Luncheon parties at Mayerling enjoy the sunny patio with its gay umbrellas and small, intimate tables. It is ideal for weary Worth Avenue shoppers, who find Mayerling a relaxing hour in a hectic day.

Mr. and Mrs. Marc Sevastapoulo were dinner hosts at Mayerling recently to an interesting party which included Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Dominguez, Miss Sylvia Szechenyi, daughter of the Countess Szechenyi, and Mr. Norville E. Deike. Others dining at Mayerling on that night were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reisinger, Mr. J. A. Peter Strassburger, and Miss Peggy Easton. Miss Easton gave a dinner party to celebrate the birthday of her sister, Miss Polly Easton.

Mrs. Wanamaker Munn is a frequent hostess at Mayerling. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Townsend, Jr., were a dinner twosome. Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Hasler entertained Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Nichols and Mr. and Mrs. Lane Alford. Mr. and Mrs. D. Dulany Hunter were hosts to a dinner party.

The always-refreshing
BACARDI
COCKTAIL

It's tart...it's smart...the incomparable Bacardi Cocktail...always correct...and always welcome...at every season...and for every occasion. Be sure to make it correctly:

The Famous Recipe in Rhyme:

A LITTLE SOUR,
 (Juice of half a lime)

A LITTLE SWEET,
 (½ teaspoonful of sugar)

THE TROPIC SUN,
 (A jigger of BACARDI RUM)
 (White or Silver Label)

WITHOUT THE HEAT!
 (Ice and shake well)

When grenadine is used instead of sugar, it's a Bacardi Grenadine Cocktail, and it comes out pink!

CAUTION: When you order a BACARDI Cocktail remember that it MUST be made with BACARDI RUM. (N. Y. Supreme Court, April 28, 1936)

Use BACARDI White Label, from Cuba, world's finest rum... or BACARDI Silver Label, Puerto Rico's finest, at a popular price.

THERE'S A DIFFERENCE!
WORTH KNOWING!

Safety..First..Last..and Always

Your Water Company looks first, last and always to the safety of the community.

The water it serves you is safe and pure every minute of the day, and every day of the year. A modern, completely equipped Laboratory is maintained expressly for the purpose of guaranteeing you that your water is the best served anywhere. Your water is tested daily by all tests known that assure safety. By this you can see that no stone is left unturned, no opportunity is passed, and no safeguard is neglected, to give you a water that is safe and pure.

Be Safe—

Use a water you know is safe.

DID YOU SAY

JAMAICA RUM?

BY ALL MEANS!

The victories at sea, the coronations of a dozen queens and kings—all the great events that marched in Britain's cavalcade of years—have been toasted in JAMAICA rum. Today the connoisseur—choosing "light" for cocktails and highballs and "dark" for punches and noggs—specifies JAMAICA even more emphatically than ever. Yet their costs are lower than those of comparably fine imported whiskies and brandies.

Try Jamaica's "Favorite Five"

JAMAICA HIGHBALL

One of the most popular and refreshing Rum drinks. Pour a dash of Jamaica Rum over a few cubes of ice and add a splash of Dry Ginger Ale. Also delightful when mixed with Soda.

JAMAICA COCKTAIL

One half cocktail glass of Jamaica Rum and an equal measure of sweet Vermouth; add plenty of cracked ice, stir well and enjoy a new and fascinating Jamaica Rum Cocktail.

JAMAICA PUNCH

One part lime juice; two parts sugar or syrup; three parts Jamaica Rum; four parts water (in warm climate three parts water and lots of cracked ice). Shake well. Serve immediately.

JAMAICA NOG

Mix one part sweetened condensed milk with an equal portion of Jamaica Rum; shake well with cracked ice, serve with a cherry and you have a most delicious short drink.

JAMAICA COLLINS

Mix one part of lime juice, two parts of sugar or syrup, four parts of Jamaica Rum and an equal measure of Soda Water. Add cracked ice, stir briskly, drink through a straw.

Facts about Fabrics

The New World wins An Old World Market

UNTIL 1928, American interior designers found it necessary to send to European mills an appreciable quantity of orders for the manufacture of certain fabrics not obtainable in the United States. Special characteristics of raw materials, dyes and weaving methods peculiar to these fabrics were then either unknown or inimitable in this country.

Though an expensive, troublesome and time-consuming business, no alternative was possible when the decorator's plans included the use of these materials. There were simply no American mills then producing them.

With the founding of Scalamandré Silks, however, sending abroad, except in rare instances became unnecessary. Fabrics which had heretofore been the exclusive specialty of foreign textile manufacturers were produced by Scalamandré in quality equal or superior to the European product. Bringing to America all the knowledge, equipment and experience prevalent in the great mills of the Old World, and adding to them the superb resources of American efficiency in production, Scalamandré began quickly to erase the old difficulties of transmitting orders thousands of miles away . . . the delays, the misunderstandings, the costliness. At the same time, existing members of the American fabric industry were exposed to no competition from the new firm, since instead of sharing the old market, Scalamandré created a new one for itself.

Today, the interior decorator can obtain at Scalamandré Silks any fine drapery and upholstery fabric or trimming, whether of American or European inspiration. The savings in time, money and convenience to the decorator and his client is probably inestimable; and the actual intrinsic quality of the fabrics themselves is in most cases improved. In addition, America has benefited by the gain of a new fabric market.

The Sun never sets on

It gives you a deep sense of satisfaction when you order a drink "made with Gilbey's Gin" to realize that at the very same minute other men who know fine liquors are sitting at far-away windows with that same familiar Gilbey's bottle beside them. For nearly a century now, the sun has never set on Gilbey's Gin . . . because millions of men have found, as you will, too, that Gilbey's makes a great drink greater!
